Foreword

In presenting this yearbook, it is the desire of the editors to record memories of the organizations and classes of Lebanon High in pictures and print that will be cherished by all students in later years.

Alma Mater

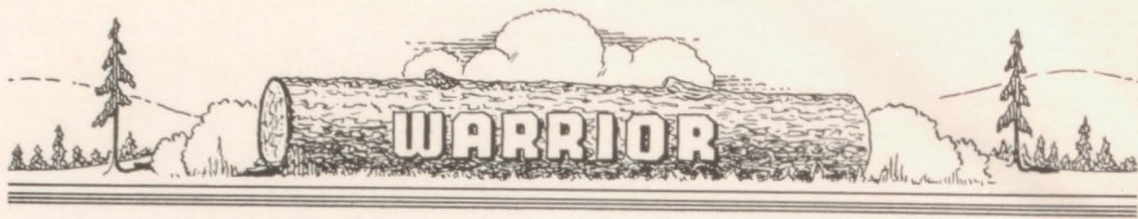

As the 1940 graduating seniors leave behind them the school and campus of Lebanon High, they leave with a remembrance of the many pleasant incidents in connection with the course of study and activities. They will also remember the beauty of the school building and campus and the romantic days spent there. They will always remember that the campus is one of the most beautiful ones to be found among high schools in the state of Oregon.

Besides these features, there are many historical facts connected with the school and site that will always remind the seniors of the institution from which they are departing. In the extreme northwest corner of the campus once stood the Santiam Academy, the first college of its kind to be erected on the Pacific coast. The southeast entrance is adorned by the oldest maple tree on the campus, around which is a cement bench, erected by the class of '16. Also at that corner of the campus is placed a weather beaten rock, upon which is a bronze plaque, designating that area as a portion of the old Oregon Trail.

At the tip top of the building still remains the old bell which formerly served the Santiam Academy and from there was moved to the high school in 1909.

As the largest graduating class in the history of Lebanon High School bids farewell to their alma mater, they will hold in mind a few facts and features of their school days inside those walls which will be cherished memories in later years.

Student Council

This spring marks the closing of a year which has seen radical changes in the Student Council work. With the coming of our new principal, Mr. Bryan, a new program was started in which the seventh and eighth grades are all included in the Student Body under a new six-year high school plan. With the addition to the Council of these lower grade representatives, the Council was able to see the problems of the entire school.

The work of the Student Council this year has been mainly in connection with the Floodlight Bonds. An extensive campaign was made to gain control of the bonds by trading an all-activity ticket for them.

Senior Class History

In 1936, 128 rather bewildered students entered dear old Lebanon High School destined to become one of the most celebrated classes in the school history.

Much of the greenness was removed at the annual Freshman reception held for the class by the upperclassmen.

But fate had not decided upon this being an average class, because it proved to be quite ambitious and active. Harold Howard was elected president; Harry Miller, vice president; Shirley Keebler, secretary, and Jack McDonald, treasurer.

In October an elaborate party and dance was given under the able supervision of the class adviser, Mrs. Shanks, in the newly constructed gymnasium.

In December Harold Howard moved to California and Glenn Kobow was elected to succeed him.

In the operetta, "The Nightingale," Dorothy Bohle, Harry Miller, and Bernice Strickler had speaking parts. The class was well represented in the chorus also.

This year saw the last of the Hi-Jinx in which the freshman skit was a great success.

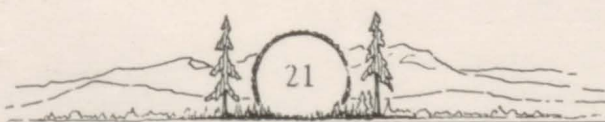

Even though the social activities of the class were numerous, several of the members hung up scholastic records.

In the fall of the year of 1937, approximately one hundred and ten students continued on to the sophomore class. Our greenness was gone, and we were ready to start the new school year with a fierce determination to show the rest of the L. H. S. what we could do.

When the time came for the election of officers, the sophomore class chose Glenn Kobow as president, Wes Gillenwater as vice-president, Helen Michelson as secretary, Bill Warden as treasurer, and Harry Miller as representative.

That year sophomores who majored in commerce were allowed to take typing and shorthand. Dorothy Bohle made the highest speed record of any of the first year typists, attaining a speed of seventy words a minute.

The sophomore class contained many musical members. Among them Edna Mae Myers, who sang first alto in the Girls' Quartet, and Dorothy Bohle, who accompanied the Glee Club in its work. There were six sophomores in the High School Band and many more in the Glee Club;

furthermore several members went to the Pacific Campus in order to participate in the Fifteenth Annual State Music Tournament.

The sophomore class was well represented on the honor roll, too, in spite of their many activities.

Miss Elizabeth Bennett was our advisor who gave us unlimited cooperation and help.

The 1940 graduating class entered its junior year in September, 1938, numbering 111 strong, the largest junior class in L. H. S. history.

The class started in fine style by electing these officers: Dorothy Bohle, president; Harry Miller, vice-president; Helen Michelson, secretary, and Betty McKinney, treasurer. The class of '40 built itself a splendid reputation in its junior year with the members participating in athletics, music, and other school activities.

The organization presented an unusually successful play called "Crashing Society." This was a comedy concerning the Dunnigans, a typical American family, who inherited a million dollars and decided to enter New York society. The cast included Alice Belousek, Wesley Taylor, Don Hayes, Dorothy Bohle, Charmain Miller, Homer Goulard, Harry Miller, Betty Smith, Bill Warden, Margaret Gatchell, Daren Pierce and Shirley Keebler. The play was a splendid production as judged from both dramatic and financial viewpoints.

Numerous dances were sponsored by the class and a Junior-Senior picnic was given on May 19. The two classes journeyed to Silver Creek Falls for the occasion. The day was completely enjoyed through hiking, ball games, horseshoe matches, and a bounteous picnic lunch.

Four members of the junior class were selected to the National Honor Society. These were Dorothy Bohle, Marie Hunt, Harry Miller, and Glenn Kobow.

The juniors were especially honored at the close of the year by the selection of Evelyn Mick to rule as Queen of the Strawberry Fair. Evelyn reigned in royal style. This was a very fitting climax for an unusually successful junior year.

On September 11, 1939, a total of 96 so-called sophisticated seniors enrolled in Lebanon High School for another, and they hoped, their last nine month session with the teachers and books of dear old L. H. S.

The first class meeting was called to order for the purpose of electing new officers. The outcome of this election was: Burton Blackwell, president; Richard Owens, vice-president; Betty McKinney, secretary; Bill Warden, student body representative; Dick Miller, sargeant-at-arms. Mr. Bennett started another year as senior class advisor.

The seniors, feeling the great responsibility of every senior class, set a good example for underclassmen, and have participated in a great many activities.

The first outstanding event of the school year, in which all seniors took part, was the freshman initiation. If some phases were just a little bit undignified for a senior, well, after all the freshmen did have to be initiated and it was the senior's job!

The seniors were also well represented in the annual high school operetta, wherein Bill Warden and Lorris Phelps portrayed leading parts and many other seniors helped to comprise the choruses.

The senior class had 15 lettermen. Fifteen received letters in one of the three major sports, and one of these received letters in each of the three major sports.

As well as in other activities, the senior class was not to be let out of being represented in the National Honor Society. Those chosen for this great honor were: Olive Ann Myler, Richard Owen, Ila Bahrke, Luella Line and Jean Gepford.

On March 29 the senior class presented the annual class play which was entitled "Spring Fever." The cast included the following: Bob Medley, Howard Schuler, Homer Goulard, Alice Belousek, Betty McKinney, Dorothy Bohle, Donald Hayes, Betty McClure, Cecile Ashley, Marilyn Scroggin, Yvonne Fisk, and Wesley Taylor.

In the student council there were a number of worthy seniors who helped to solve the smaller but not least in importance of high school problems. Those seniors are as follows: Olive Ann Myler, Glenn Kobow, Dorothy Alley, Merle Klinge, Orin Opel, Dorothy Bohle, Bill Warden, Don Hayes, Pat Tweed, Ila Bahrke, Johnny Baca, Harry Miller, Homer Goulard, Burton Blackwell, and Shirley Keebler.

And now as the kind of lost feeling descends upon us seniors as our high school days draw to an end, we certainly feel reluctant to leave our old Alma Mater and yet there is the fiery fighting gleam in all seniors' eyes as they look forward to launching upon another phase of life wherein we all hope the finals will spell "Success."

Will and Testament

We, the class of the year one thousand nine hundred and forty, being the largest class in L. H. S. history to date, do execute, publish, and swear this our last will and testament in manner and style as follows:

First: We give to our inferiors the junior class, caps and gowns for graduation.

SECOND: To the basketball squad we leave several positions which we indeed hope, will be capably filled for the State Tournament, and which we hope L. H. S. will again participate in.

THIRD: Individual donations and wills:

Dorothy Alley—Leaves the Student Body secretarial job for some other industrious person.

Cecil Ashley—wills his keen interest in pharmacy to Harold Harden.

Jean White—leaves to become secretary to Warden's Car Market.

Senior Class Play

The class of '40 scored a real hit with their presentation of the comedy "Spring Fever," by Glenn Hughes under the expert direction of Miss Kee Buchanan on March 29.

Plotted around the old theme of mistaken identity, the play sustained the interest of the audience past the place where the mistake was revealed and on to the final curtain.

Cast in the following roles and highly complimented on their excellent performances were Howard Schuler as Howard Brant, a senior at Brookfield college; Homer Goulard as Ed Burns, a chemistry student whose explosions kept the audience on the jump continuously; Bob Medley as Vic Lewis, an art student; Alice Belousek, as Lou Herron, a journalism major; Marilyn Scroggin as Mrs. Spangler, the landlady of the rooming house; Betty Lou McClure as Maude Corey, Howard's aunt from California; Dorothy Bohle as Ann Purcell, Howard's heart-interest; Betty McKinney as Vic's heart-interest; Wesley Taylor as Henry Purcell, Ann's millionaire father; Yvonne Fisk as Phoebe Purcell, Ann's mother; Donald Hayes as Virgil P. Bean, professor of zoology and Cecile Ashley as Dr. Dixon, president of Brookfield college.

The play was also successful financially as well as entertaining. The proceeds went to various expenses of the class.

Junior Class

The year which is now coming to a close has been a very successful year for the Junior Class. To start the year off, the Juniors had many dances, and all were said to be the best dances of the year.

The Junior Class officers chosen at the beginning of the year are as follows: Jack Lemons, president; Geneva Brown, vice-president; Gene McKinney, treasurer; Ruth Schackman, secretary; and George Dewey, student council representative. Their leadership has made the Junior Class of 1939 and 1940 a well-remembered one.

The Junior Class Play, "Aaron Slick from Punkin Crick," in which Jim Winn, Dorothy Burton, Marjorie Stringer, Bob Davis, Marybeth Whetstone, Lorelei Stewart, Jack Lemons, and other Juniors enacted their parts well, was a success.

This year the Sophomore Class had one hundred twenty-one members. They elected as their officers: president, Leon Carter; vice-president, Charlie Long; secretary, Pauline Sanders, and treasurer, Floreine Edwards.

Last year they entered high school with an enrollment of one hundred forty-five members. This large class elected as their officers: president, Bill Reeves; vice-president, Charlie Long; secretary-treasurer, Bill Fredericks, and representative, Helen Stowe.

Among the outstanding sophomores in Glee Club are Charlotte Bohle, Janet Keebler and Dorothy Grable, who did unexcelled work in girl's trio. Also Nancy Kirkpatrick and Charlie Long were outstanding in solo work.

Freshmen Class

With well over 100 members the Freshman Class entered Lebanon high school last fall. With Bill Bauman as president, Tom Standley as vice-president, Aliene Miller as secretary, Charlotte Curtis as treasurer, and Wendall Cook as student council representative, the Freshmen spent most of their time learning to adjust themselves to high school life.

Members of the class were active in athletics, F. F. A., dramatics, Glee club, band, Hi-Light, and the other activities of the school. They have stood out with their school work also for a number of the group has won places on the honor roll.

In May the class staged a skating party in Albany. Two bus loads of students participated, making it a very successful event.

At the beginning of this year, when the first meeting of the up-and-coming eighth grade class was held, the following officers were elected and installed: President, Hallie Ashton; vice-president, Clinton Pearson; secretary-treasurer, George McDonald; student council representative, Ralph Cooper.

Several members of the eighth grade class have been very active in the band this year, doing their part in bringing honors to the school.

In athletics, the eighth grade boys made news for the Hi-Light by winning second place in the Linn County Grade School Basketball Tournament. During the basketball season, the basketball team played eight games, won four, tied one, and lost three.

To end up a successful year, the class held a party at the Scout House April 19, 1940, which was well-attended and pronounced very enjoyable by all who were present.

Seventh Grade

The seventh grade class under the direction of Mrs. Binshadler, has finished a very successful and well-organized year. The class began the year with a meeting to consider what qualifications were desirable in their class-officers. Mr. Cce and Mr. Bryan gave short talks on the subject and the following officers were duly elected: President, Curtis Coe; vice-president, Richard Michelson; secretary-treasurer, Betty Irvine; council representative, Beverly Keebler.

At the second meeting held, the theme was an interesting Indian exhibit. Mr. Coe and Mr. Bryan aided by giving short talks about different Indian tribes and displaying Indian curios. The meeting was completed with a humorous Indian dialogue given by the seventh grade boys.

A special patriotic program was held on February 22. Mr. Coe and Mr. Bryan again accepted an invitation to take part. The seventh grade girls gave a dialogue, "Waiting for the Doctor," at the conclusion of the program.

Honor Roll

The requirements for the honor roll at Lebanon this year have been quite strict, as they have been in the past. A student must have at least two 1's in full and regular subjects, no 3's in any subject including citizenship, and no unexcused absences nor tardinesses.

Following is a list of the students who have won a place on the honor roll for their name:

Hallie Ashton	Mario Green	Olive Owens

Band

For the fourth consecutive year, the Lebanon High School band captured a "superior" or 1 rating at the state high school band contest. This year the band played "Celebre Toreador" as a warm-up march, "Stradella" overture as a selective number, and the required "Niobe," a romantic legend, in the contest at Albany, April 13.

Not only the band, but soloists and ensembles as well carried off honors at the contest. The clarinet quartet rated second, the brass quartet first, Norman Leckband, cornet soloist, first, and Melvin Gilson, second in the oboe solo division.

The band director, Gordon Tripp, is just completing his first year at Lebanon.

This year in the contest, Lebanon was the only band in Class D, C, or B to win a first division rating. The two other Class B bands, Silverton and McMinnville, were both placed in Division III. Last year McMinnville was placed in the first division with Lebanon at the Salem State contest, but were given a III, compared to Lebanon's I in the Nationals at Portland.

Early in the year, a drive was launched for new uniforms. To boost this drive, a "Band Booster's" club was formed. Benefit card parties, dances, rummage sales, cooked food sales, and athletic events were given. It is now believed that the band will have the new uniforms early next year.

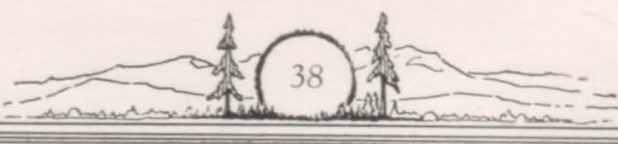

Because of the purchasing of the uniforms, and the distance to be traveled, the band did not get to go to the National Contest, held in Spokane, Washington, May 17-18. The band's record to date is: State contests entered, 5; Wins, 4. National contests entered, 2; Wins, 1. The first state contest entered (1936), they were given second place. The first National contest they entered (1938), they were given second division.

Some of the subsidiaries of the band are: Saxophone quartet, brass quartet, clarinet quartet, dance band, and the French horn quartet.

Besides school assemblies, the band has played for parades both in Lebanon and Sweet Home, all football games, many basketball games, concerts, and broadcasts over KOAC in Corvallis.

Some of the numbers in the band's large library are: "Prelude and Fugue" by Bach, "Atlantis" by Safranek, "Builders of Youth" by O'Neill, "Egmont" by Beethoven, "Unfinished Symphony" by Schubert, and many others.

Officers for the past year were: President, Walter Johannsen; vice-president, Lorelei Stewart; secretary, Charlotte Bohle; treasurer, Melvin Gilson; and reporter, Had Reeves.

Jean White, Charlotte Bohle, Harold Michels, Lorelei Stewart

Clarinet Quartet

This year, for the first time, there was a clarinet quartet, replacing the trio of former years. It consists of one senior, two juniors, and one sophomore.

First clarinet is Jean White, who is completing her fifth and final year in the band and trio. Jean is a senior, and has played first clarinet in the band since she was a freshman.

Charlotte Bohle, a sophomore, plays second clarinet. She has been in the band five years, and for the past three has played first and solo clarinet parts. In 1938 she received a second division rating in the state clarinet solo contest, junior division.

Harold Michels, the only boy in the quartet, plays third clarinet. He is a junior. Besides his band and ensemble work, he is a letterman in football, basketball, and baseball. He has been in the band seven years.

Lorelei Stewart, also a junior, plays fourth clarinet. She has played clarinet in the band for four years. Besides being very active in music, Lorelei was chosen as Lebanon's candidate for the 1940 Strawberry Fair Queen.

Walter Johannsen, Harold Post, Norman Leckband, George MacDonald

Brass Quartet

The brass quartet is another subsidiary of the band which carried off honors at the State contest at Albany in April. They were given a I rating, "superior."

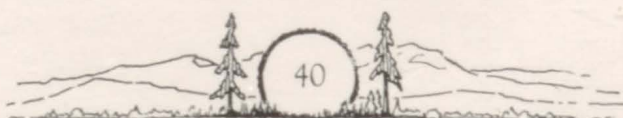

The personnel of the quartet is as follows:

Harold Post, cornet. Harold is a junior, and has been in the band for six years. Besides playing solo cornet in the band, he plays in the dance orchestra, and is a three year letterman in baseball.

Norman Leckband, cornet. Norman is a freshman, but has played in the band for four years. He entered the state solo contest this year and was awarded first division. He also plays in the dance band.

George MacDonald, cornet, is an eighth grader. He is completing his second year in the school band, but played in the junior band for two years before entering the senior band.

Walter Johannsen, trombone. Walter is also a junior, and plays in the dance orchestra. He has been playing trombone in the band since he was in the eighth grade. He also plays basketball.

Nancy Kirkpatrick, Wilma Green, James Southwick, Betty Brown

French Horn Quartet

One of the outstanding brass groups of the band is the French horn quartet. It is composed of the four members of the French horn section of the band.

Nancy Kirkpatrick, a sophomore, is the first horn player, having played first for two years. During her two previous years in the quartet, she has played second and fourth horn, one year each, Nancy is very outstanding in music, being in the band, a'capella choir, girls' glee club, and a girls' trio, as well as a soloist, both vocal and instrumental.

Wilma Green, second horn, is a junior. This is her second year in the quartet. Last year she played third horn, this year, second. She doesn't plan to continue with music after her graduation from high school.

The third horn player, Betty Brown, is an eighth grader, playing her first year in the quartet. Until this year, she had been playing mellophone in the junior band.

James Southwick, a sophomore, is also playing the French horn for the first time. At the beginning of the year, he played cornet. He plays fourth horn.

Dance Band

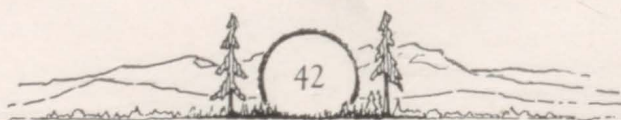

For the first time in history Lebanon High has had its own dance orchestra. This orchestra is led by the school band director, Gordon Tripp.

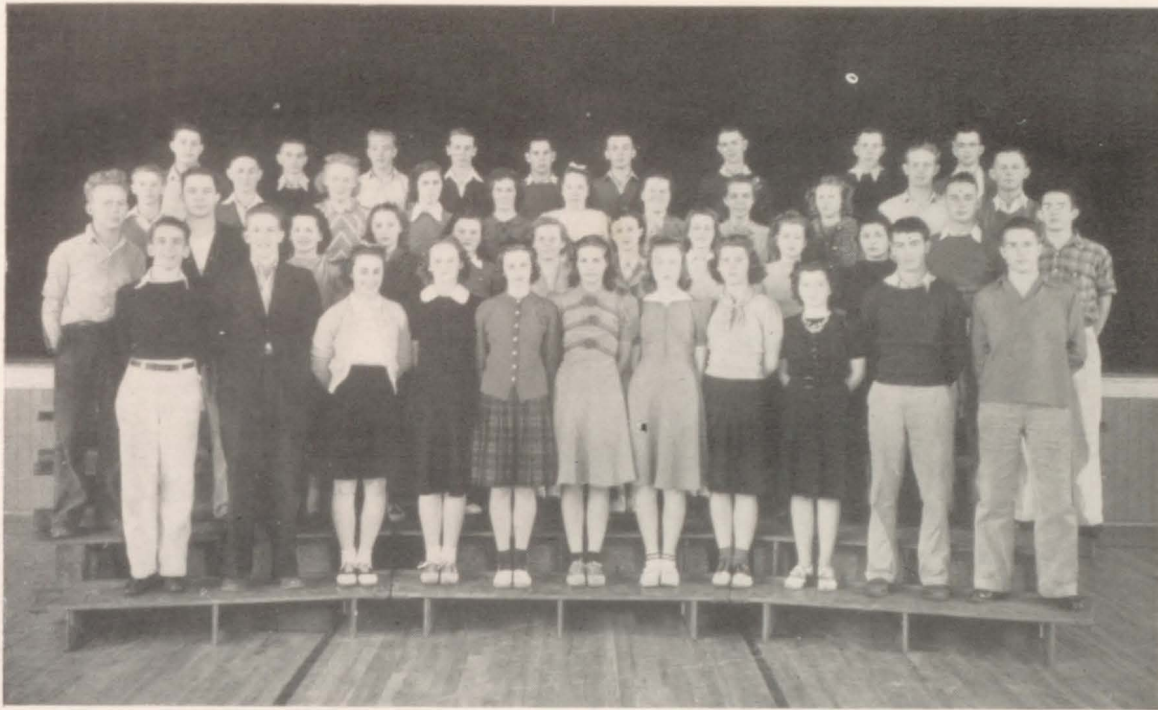

The orchestra features both sweet and swing tunes, and is said to be one of the best of its kind in the state.

Personnel: Saxophones—Mr. Gordon Tripp, Harold Michels, Darlene Smith, altos, Had Reeves, tenor, Bill Warden, baritone; clarinets—Jean White, Charlotte Bohle; trumpets—Harold Post, Norman Leckband; trombones—Walter Johannsen, Virgil Wills; bass—Norman Ramsey; piano—Dorothy Bohle; drums—LeRoy Eubank, Lynn Calahan (alternate); and vocalists—Florence Curtis, Janet Keebler, Bill Warden.

Substitutes on the piano are Barbara Walker and Marilyn Scroggin.

The orchestra made its first appearance in Tangent, November 17, 1939, and its Lebanon debut November 22 at the Girls' League dance. This was followed by dances at the high school, appearances at the Lion's club, the Sweet Home Prom, the Bend Prom, the Albany Prom, a radio broadcast, and the Queen's Ball.

A'Capella Choir

Congratulations should be extended to the A'Capella Choir for their excellent work during this year. They won the rating of excellent (second division) given for Class B at the District Music Contest held in Albany, and also carried away the third place at the Forest Grove Tourney, where they competed with other schools in the state. The Boys' and Girls' Glee clubs should also be honored for winning first places at the Forest Grove Tourney, and excellent ratings in Albany.

Under a new director, Miss Alice Holmback, the chorus has done excellent work this year. Although Miss Holmback started at the difficult time of mid-year to teach, she is to be congratulated on the splendid way in which she has conducted the chorus.

The operetta "The Mikado" given at the first of the year under the direction of Miss Moore by the combined Glee Clubs was pronounced the most successful production in years.

Glee Club

The second period Glee Club is composed of fifty voices. This organization has been active in school assemblies and has made a few public appearances.

The Glee Club joined the a'capella choir in singing the chorus parts for the high school operetta, "The Mikado." At Christmas time they went caroling, serenading shut-ins and cheering the sick.

Fundamentals of sight reading, tone quality, and ear training are given as well as a deeper appreciation of music and a knowledge of musical terms.

Every week each student listens to some musical program over the radio and each Friday turns in a report on the program.

Officers of the Glee Club are: President, Edna Olson; secretary, Sally Irvine, and librarians, Gloria Lee and Dalton Johnson.

Miss Alice Holmback, vocal supervisor, is director of this Glee Club. Lore'ta Peterson is the regular accompanist.

Girls' Quartet

Although the girls' quartet was not fully organized until mid-year, they have done their bit in representing the school on many programs. Because of the late organization they were unable to enter the usual contests this year, but will be fully organized next year and again ready for action.

The quartet has three entirely new members this year. Only one old member, Edna Myers, has had any former experience. She was a member of the girl's quartet, which won so many honors both in state and national contests last year, and is a valuable asset to any singing organization.

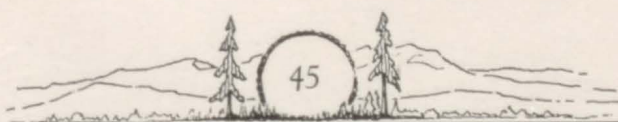

The new quartet is composed of Clydel Morrison, soprano; Bette Lou McClure, second soprano; Edna Mae Myers, first alto; and Marjorie Sutter, second alto.

Clydel Morrison, a freshman, is the youngest member of the group. However, she has taken an active part in glee club activities and lends valuable support in the soprano section of the a'capella choir.

Bette Lou McClure, a senior, moved to Lebanon this year from Sweet Home where she had taken many parts in school operettas and glee clubs. She is also very active in glee club work here.

Edna Mae Myers, a senior, carried on from last year in holding the quartet together. She will be missed greatly next year from the a'capella choir, of which she was treasurer, and also from the quartet itself.

Marjorie Sutter, a junior, has been very active, both in band and glee work during her school years, and will carry on with the quartet next year.

Boys' Quartet

This year the boys' quartet had two new members, who replaced graduating seniors of 1939. They were Philip Ashton, baritone, and Raymond Gilbert, bass. Gene McKinney, first tenor, has been in the quartet a year and a half, and Had Reeves, second tenor, two years.

Gene, first tenor, is a junior. He has been in the a'capella choir and the boys' glee club for three years, besides being treasurer of the Junior class, and having won letters in football and baseball. He played the part of Nanki-Poo in "The Mikado."

Had Reeves, second tenor, has also been in the a'capella choir and boys' glee club for three years, plays flute in the band, saxophone in the Dance Band, and has represented Lebanon High twice in the state vocal solo contest at Forest Grove. Had, also a junior, was Ko Ko in this year's operetta, "The Mikado."

Philip Ashton, baritone, a sophomore, has sung in the a'capella choir and boys' glee club for two years, and shows great promise as a baritone for his remaining two years in High School.

Raymond Gilbert, bass, also a sophomore, was fortunate enough to make the boys quartet during his first year in the glee club. Not only that, but he had to fill the difficult bass spot, left vacant by the graduation of last year's bass, Don Chamberlin.

Because of lack of experience, the quartet didn't enter the state contest this year, but did furnish music for several meetings, the Lion's Club, and a broadcast over KSLM.

With all the members returning, the quartet should really "go places" next year.

Operetta

This year's operetta, "The Mikado," by Gilbert and Sullivan, was said to be the finest and most elaborate operetta ever presented in Lebanon. This version of "The Mikado" was the original, not the abridged version, which was given here in 1936.

The characters Gilbert and Sullivan had in mind when they wrote "The Mikado" were almost perfectly depicted by the nine Lebanon students, who were called back five times after the last curtain had dropped.

Gene McKinney, a junior, playing his first lead, handled the male love interest in the Japanese operetta. He played the part of Nanki-Poo, son of the Mikado, alais a wandering minstrel. He played opposite Joan Schenk, who was Yum-Yum. This was her second main part in three years.

The comic-tailor, Ko Ko, who was also Lord High Executioner, was played by Had Reeves. Ko Ko wanted to marry Yum-Yum, but finally had to marry Katisha in order to save himself from death. Katisha's part was well done by Janet Keebler, a sophomore, in her first role. She wanted to marry Nanki-Poo, but married Ko Ko instead, much against her wishes. Pooh-Bah, the Lord High everything else was portrayed by Bill Warden, one of the seniors in the cast. He had over 30 titles listed by his name.

Charlotte Bohle (Peep Bo) and Nancy Kirkpatrick (Pitti Sing) were the other two of the three little maids. These parts were also very well done. Richard Owen was a noble lord, Pish Tush, and the title role was played by Lorris Phelps.

Girls' Trio

This year is the second year that a girls' trio has been organized at Lebanon High school. It was organized last year because the requirements of the state contest demanded it.

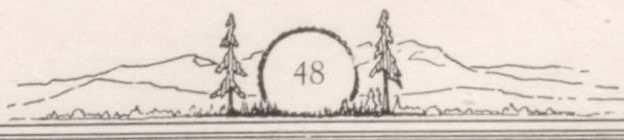

This year's trio is composed of Dorothy Grable, Charlotte Bohle, and Janet Keebler. The trio is identical with that of last year except Dorothy Grable, soprano, who replaced Joan Schenk of last year.

Dorothy is a sophomore and has to her credit two years of A'Capella Choir. Dorothy does not play in the band, but she was drum majorette for one year. Her other activities are Pep Club, G. A. A., Girls' League, and Home Economics Club.

Charlotte Bohle is also a sophomore. This is her second year in the trio, where she sings second soprano. She has been a member of the A'Capella Choir for two years, and in the band four years. She is a member of the clarinet quartet, which was rated "excellent" at the district contest. Charlotte also plays clarinet in the L. H. S. Dance Band. She had a part in this year's operetta, and is an active member of G. A. A., Home Economics, Pep Club, and Sophomore Representative to the Girls' League.

Janet Keebler, alto, is a sophomore. She has been a member of the A'Capella Choir for two years. This year she had a leading part in the operetta. She sings with the Dance Band, and is an active member of the G. A. A. and the Girls' League.

The trio has proved that they are indeed talented singers, and will represent Lebanon at Forest Grove this year.

The staff for the 1940 Warrior was chosen differently this year than has been done formerly. Since this year's annual is a student body project, the staff was selected by the student body members.

Names of eight students that were eligible for the position were submitted by Mr. Hickcox, advisor, to the council, which approved of the nominees and added more. These nominees were referred to the entire student body for election.

With the assistance of several very capable reporters, this staff has edited this 1940 Warrior for Lebanon High.

National Honor Society

Qualifications for the National Honor Society are based on four main points: Scholarship, character, leadership, and service.

Each of the four juniors who were elected last year hold an office in the organization this year. Mr. Bennett is advisor of the group. Fifteen new members were added this year. The five seniors are Ila Bahrke, Olive Anne Myler, Luella Line, Jean Gepford, and Richard Owen. The ten juniors are Lorelei Stewart, Jeannette Pape, Dorothy Coyle, Harold Michels, Harold Post, Geneva Brown, Dorothy Burton, Joan Knowlen, Ruth Schackman and Lucille Warnke.

Library Club

The library club of 1939-40 started the year with a larger membership than ever before, since the membership was extended to boys as well as girls. The officers for the year were: Dorothy Alley, president; Homer Goulard, vice-president; Jean Knowlen, secretary; and Ann Leech, treasurer.

The activities during the year have been interesting and widespread. The club has been responsible for the attractiveness of the library. An open house was sponsored early in the year for the purpose of explaining new books that had been received.

Lebanon Hi-Light

Last September a well organized staff issued its first copy of the paper. Its staff then consisted of Glenn Kobow as editor-in-chief, Dorothy Alley as assistant editor, Merle Klinge as business manager, Burton Blackwell as assistant business manager, Alice Belousek as proof reader and Barbara Walker as exchange editor. Howard Hickcox was staff advisor.

Dorothy Alley succeeded Glenn Kobow as editor at the beginning of the second semester, while Had Reeves became assistant editor. Burton Blackwell succeeded Merle Klinge as business manager and Geneva Brown became assistant business manager.

Pep Club

This year a new club was organized under the guidance of Miss Schiltz, which was called the Pep Club. It's officers were: Marceil Bohlken, president; Helen Jones, secretary; and Nancy Kirkpatrick, treasurer.

One of the most outstanding jobs accomplished was the appearance and display of pep and enthusiasm at all games by the club members. The sole aim of the pep club is to improve pep.

S. O. S. Club

The School Office Service Club, commonly known as the S.O.S. club, was organized by seventeen girls participating in office work. The purpose of this organization is to promote more interest among the girls toward actual office work.

Although the S.O.S. is yet new, it is a very successful club at L. H. S. After just one year it has become well-known in the list of school activities. Miss Edith Bolf, the advisor, is probably responsible for its immediate success.

The officers of the newly-founded club for 1939-40 were: President, Ila Bahrke; vice-president, Betty Smith; secretary, Dorothy Bohle.

Latin Club

Latin is called a dead language, but the Latin Club cannot be called a dead club—far from it. The members of this club are eager, enthusiastic, and willing to co-operate in every undertaking no matter whether it is educational or recreational.

On every club calendar, there has to be a place for recreation and the Latin Club is no exception. This year the Latin Club had its annual Christmas party on December 20 in the Home Economics building. A large crowd attended, games were played, presents were exchanged, and refreshments were served. This spring, May 15, at Bates Park the club held its annual picnic, to which each member brought a guest.

Home Economics

Much progress has been made by the members of the Lebanon High Home Economics Club this year. Many activities were carried out under the advisorship of the new instructor, Miss Farrell.

The officers for the club in 1939-1940 were: Helen Stowe, president; Floreine Edwards, vice-president; Helen Jones, secretary; and Marceil Bohlken, treasurer.

Among the important happenings of the year were the annual initiation, F. F. A. and Home-Ec party, football banquet, and a Mothers' Day luncheon. Other social functions were also held throughout the year.

Lettermen's Club

The 1939-40 officers for the Lebanon High Varsity "L" are: Johnny Baca, president; Claire McClain, secretary; Bob Standley, treasurer; and Gene McKinney, sergeant-at-arms.

This year the organization has sponsored more events than ever in the past. Among these activities are the sale of schedule pencils and also Lebanon High stickers, two dances, one of which, the Spring Jig, was considered one of the most successful dances of the year, and the annual picnic which this year included the personnel of the high school dance band as well as the regular members of the club.

Fire Squad

The past year saw several changes in the fire squad at L. H. S. The entire group this year was selected from the Smith-Hughes department rather than from the general student body. Officials for this club were: Lorris Phelps, chief; Claire McClain, 1st lieutenant, in charge of evacuation; Glenn Kobow, 2nd lieutenant, in charge of extinguishers and hoses; and George Dewey, sergeant of the extinguisher detail.

Of the several fire drills conducted throughout the course of the school year, the majority of them were held in near record time, with complete evacuation of all students and faculty in less than sixty seconds.

Boys' Service Council

The Boys' Service Council of Lebanon High is one of the newly organized groups in the school activity program. The purpose of the council is to give aid to the many problems of organizations and individuals around the school.

The officers elected from a group of twelve charter members were Glenn Kobow, president; Burton Blackwell, vice-president; Merle Klinge, secretary; Cecil Ashley, executive secretary; Homer Goulard, treasurer; and Johnny Baca, sergeant-at-arms. Don Hayes succeeded Glenn as president when the latter resigned that post.

Girls' League Council

The Girls' League officers for the year 1939-40 were: President, Pat Tweed; vice-president, Ruth Zimbrick; secretary, Nancy Kirkpatrick; treasurer, Lorelei Stewart; senior representative, Helen Michelson; junior representative, Marian Standley; sophomore representative, Charlotte Bohle; freshman representative, Sally Irvine; and big sister chairman, Ann Leech.

At the beginning of the year the freshmen girls were entertained at the annual "Kid Party" held in the gym. Prizes were awarded to the cutest and homeliest girls.

In the month of November, the district Girls' League convention was held in Lebanon. Dorothy Bohle was president of the district and presided at the meeting. About 17 schools were represented, and there were about 250 girls present.

At the beginning of 1940, the dean, Miss Lean Medler, resigned and her position was filled by Miss Dorothy Schiltz.

The officers for next year are: President, Lorelei Stewart; vice-president, Doris Ayers; treasurer, Ardys Whetstone; secretary, Jean Post; senior representative, Marian Standley; junior representative, Nancy Kirkpatrick; and sophomore representative, Sally Irvine.

Football

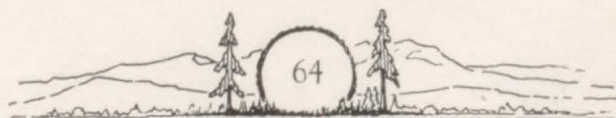

The 1939 varsity football squad completed the season on the gridiron with three wins and seven losses. Pre-season practice showed a strong and veteran squad, but injuries in the early part of the season handicapped the entire team.

Of the ten regular games played, six were on Newport field and four away. All except two were played under the lights.

DICK MILLER: Hard hitting left end, playing his last year of high school football. Dick was in every play, knifing through into the opponents backfield. Dick also captained the squad.

LLOYD MILLER: Junior member of the grid squad who played left tackle. Lloyd was a great asset to the squad on offensive play and was always on the alert on defense.

GLENN KOBOW: Another senior gridster, who played left guard, the position he has held for four years. Glenn received injuries early in the season which eliminated his valuable services.

CLINTON SMITH: A sophomore regular at the center position. Clinton was diligent in his playing and an important member in all games. He also plays baseball.

BOB MEDLEY: A senior transfer who held down the right tackle position. A brilliant player both defensively and offensively. Bob led the interference on most of the plays.

GENE MCKINNEY: One of the toughest men on the squad and in the league. Gene, a junior, played first string right guard, a position where intestinal fortitude is essential.

BOB STANDLEY: Another junior member who played right end. He was on the receiving end of many successful passes and was a very efficient tackler.

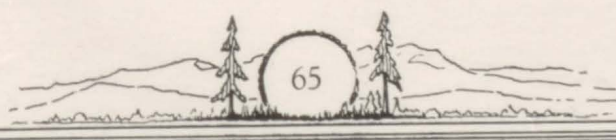

WES LENOX: A clever and deceptive man at the left half spot. Wes is a junior who played his first year of varsity ball but handled the job like a veteran.

GEORGE DEWEY: A hard fighting right half who made plenty of yardage for the local gridsters. He is a natural player for both end sweeps or line drives and will be back next year to continue carrying the ball.

HAROLD MICHELS: A determined and fighting member of the squad who filled the fullback position. "Mike" was a valuable player on defense, breaking up many aerial attacks.

CHET SIMPSON: An all-around athlete in the quarterback spot. Chet was a great asset to the squad due to his passing ability as well as being one of the best ball packers witnessed by the grid fans. He was also a great defensive man.

Basketball

The Lebanon High varsity quintet has completed one of the most successful seasons in history. In the 22 regular district and W. V. I. league games 15 were won and seven lost. They won seven out of eight district games to place first, and receive an invitation to the state basketball tournament at Salem. At the Salem play-offs the local squad took University High into camp, but dropped their games with Astoria and Ashland.

Five seniors are graduating from the casaba squad this year. These are Dick Miller, captain for this season, Bob Medley, Don Strode, Bill Ellis, and Theron Blackburn, Dick Miller has played on the maple court every year he has attended high school and has been a great asset to the quintet. He has captained the squad quite diligently this past season, and led them to many victories.

Bob Medley is a transfer from Salem High who participated in all three sports at Lebanon this year and has won a letter in each of these. Bob was a "natural" on the courts and could make points from any angle.

He was one of the highest scorers in the Willamette Valley league this past year. He held down the guard position, but could play any portion of the court as well.

Don Strode is also a transfer, from Carlton. Don could not be excelled at the center position. He added much to the squad, being on the alert both defensively and offensively. Don also plays baseball and is one of the hardest hitters in the line-up.

Bill Ellis, another senior, also won his letter by playing persistently during the game. Bill was not to be beaten on long side-angle shots. He is also playing baseball for varsity and is undoubtedly one of the best hurlers in the district and league.

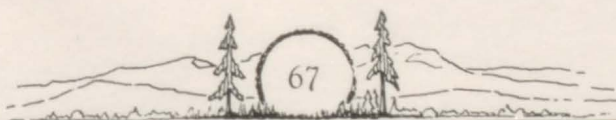

Theron Blackburn is another member of the casaba squad who went to the state tournament. Theron was a valuable man on the team and was always willing to do all he possibly could to win for his school.

Chet Simpson, a junior, played regular guard. He was also one of the high scorers in the W.V.I. league this past season, being especially good on long howitzer shots from the side court. Chet will continue next year in all three sports.

Bob Standley, also a junior and regular forward, played excellent ball both defensively and offensively. Bob specialized on pivot shots from the foul line and was very difficult to guard. He was also treasurer of the letterman's club this year.

Harold Michels could play any and all positions on the squad. He would put everything he could into each play and was a great asset to the quintet. "Mike" was a brilliant player on offense, handling the ball as quickly and surely as a collegiate player. He also played football and baseball.

Boxing

The Lebanon High leather pushers have completed their third year of successful boxing. Lebanon again entered the ring with a well trained, hard fighting squad of pugilists.

Seven of Lebanon's best leather slingers are graduating this year. These include Johnny Baca, this year's captain, Marvin Borntrager, Burke Prince, Myrl Barnts, Claire McClain, Cecil Ashley, and Lyle Lanning. These boys composed the larger part of the squad.

This year's sluggers, because of their dangerous reputation, were not able to draw much competition from other schools. The Lebanon fans witnessed only two bouts. One of these was with the Oregon State Rooks and one was with the Corvallis High squad.

The Lebanon squad tied with the fierce O. S. C. rook team, the score being 5 to 5. The Corvallis squad was easily downed by the Lebanon mitt-men with a 3 to 2 count.

Lebanon High hopes that they will be represented next year at the state tournament and they expect to come back with many honors.

Baseball

The varsity nine has proven itself worthy of any and all honors that may be given this season. Starting the season with four straight wins, the local team became self-confident, and has remained in first position in district competition. They have won every district game except the one with Sweet Home on the local diamond.

Prospects are good for Lebanon to place first in the annual Linn County baseball tourney, which will again be held on the days of the Strawberry Fair and will include eight Linn county teams. Lebanon has also a very good chance to participate in the state tournament which will be held at Linfield, May 23, 24, and 25.

Track

Although the local track squad is not a very large representative group, the members have been working diligently for all honors that are receivable. Most of these members are juniors and veteran cinder men who will help make an excellent squad for the coming track season.

All that is necessary to have a good squad is to have several participants who have a desire to accomplish something. Faithful training is necessary for any track man; also persistency in regular work-outs is essential.

Track and field events, because of their unique set-up in the field of sports, offer every opportunity for both individual and team achievements. Past marks can be bettered by the individual, and state and national marks can be challenged, and eventually beaten.

Lebanon High can look forward to a very successful season in field and track events next year. Many cinder men will return to carry off honors for their Alma Mater in future field meets.

Junior Division Basketball

The junior division basketballers, the oncoming varsity stars, have displayed fine standards this year on the maple court. They have won three games, lost two, and tied three after playing over-time.

During the Linn County Basketball tourney which was held at Lebanon, the local juniors displayed some fine technique on the open court. They placed second in the tournament.

The members of the junior squad who played in the tournament were: George MacDonald, Ralph Cooper, Don Clark, Clifford Ensley, Dwayne Gessler, Douglas Bennington, Clinton Pearson, and Gene Durlam.

These members of the junior division team will step into the vacancies in the varsity casaba squad.

Acknowledgment

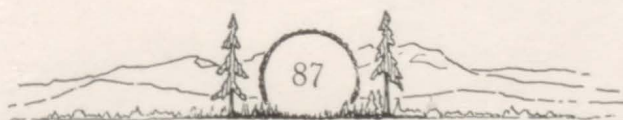

We take this opportunity to thank Mr. Coe, Mr. Bryan, and the Lebanon school board for the considerations we have received from them. We especially appreciate the wholehearted cooperation that we have received from Mr. Hickcox, the adviser.

The staff is also indebted to Dorothy Alley, Ila Bahrke, Myrl Barnts, Alice Belousek, Burton Blackwell, Harry Miller, Had Reeves, Howard Schuler, Marilyn Scroggin, and Pat Tweed for the assistance they have given in presenting this publication.

To The Sponsors

To the merchants of Lebanon much credit is due for the success of the Warrior. They have sponsored this book by their contributions, thus making it possible to give you a record of the year's events.

The staff of the 1940 Warrior hereby wishes to thank the merchants for their support and wish them great success in the future.
