The '46 annual staff hopes that this year's book will live up to all the expectations of a patient student body. And that this, the first peace-time book in four long years, may help the graduating Seniors relive their pleasant high school career.

The Warrior staff wishes to thank Mr. H. E. Hickcox, faculty advisor, for his helpful criticism and guidance. Also we wish to express our appreciation to the many friends who have given much of their time to make this book a reality. Special thanks go to Joyce Scott, for her splendid art work, and Fayne Blackburn and Kenneth Haughton in the features department.

Student Council

President	Lynn Hamilton
Vice President	Joe Elkins
Secretary	Zata Sinclair
Treasurer	Ruth Bazant

The student governing body of all high schools, the Student Council, played a great role in L. H. S. activities this year. The student council consists of the president, the vice president, the secretary, and the treasurer of the Associated Student Body, the president and representative of each class, and a representative from each of the active clubs. Council meetings were held regularly this year every two weeks, and at each meeting there were various problems on the Agenda. The student council followed for the most part, the comparatively new constitution which was set up two years ago. The following of this revised constitution has proven very successful. The council has worked on and worked out numerous problems of various nature.

Some of the high-lights of the year were as follows: The Keep Kampus Klean Klub, whose main objective it was to do just that . . . the decisive measure that the Band would have a special letter, and that they would wear chevrons and not stripes on their sweaters . . . deciding to join a National Honor Society; although plans were not completed on this they expect to be next year . . . handling of tickets that Lebanon would receive for the State Tournament . . . the decision to sponsor four feature pages in the '46 annual . . . and last but by no means least, the handling of Student Body elections for the coming year.

Senior Class Play

The class of '46 presented the annual Senior play in three performances, March 19, 20, and 21, to a capacity house each time.

The play was a fast-moving comedy entitled, "Going Places." All three acts of the play were set in the living room of a college president's home. The plot became more and more involved as four college students plotted to get a football player over the hurdles of entrance exams; managing to "rake up" three millionaire aunts from Texas and dispose of all but one of them in a single afternoon.

Besides members of the play cast, its huge success was due in great part to those unheralded back-stage performers: the make-up department, ably directed by Billy Ann Hoeft assisted by Mr. Cash; the publicity department, under Dorene Liggett; the stage-setting crew, under Mr. Dodds' supervision; ushers and ticket booth, Nova Jean Keith, Bernita Canoy, Shirley Crandall, Florence Manning, Mary Almen, Nancy Costello, Wuanita Fleming, Ruth Bazant, and Rosamond Almon; properties, Ronald Board and Mary Williams; and the sound-effects men, Ray LaFond and Ron Cox, aided by Mr. Brenner.

Directing the play was Mr. H. B. Holt of the high school speech and drama department.

The cast was as follows:

Jeff Sterling — Lynn Hamilton
Shirley Kimball — Zata Sinclair
Gladys Miller—Joyce Scott
Cuthbert Lee — Roland Board
Chuck Malloy — Kenneth Haughton
Rosemary Lee — Alice Hansell
Aunt Kate Malloy — Elmerjane Carlson
President Kimball — Dick Hewett
Mrs. Kimball — Joan Voegelein
Professor Stubbs — Dick McEwan
Mrs. Stubbs — Helen Smyth
Florence Ward — Nancy Gleason

Senior Class History

As school opened September, 1943, 147 freshmen enrolled. With Mr. Rickard as class advisor they selected the following officers: President, Jess Ingram; vice president, Duane Pierce; secretary, Zata Sinclair; treasurer, Mariloris Scott; class representative, Paul McCracken; and Girl's League representative, Beverly Lenox. The freshmen were well represented in all school activities with the year proving a huge success.

The following year the Sophomore class was one of the outstanding classes in the school. They were very prominent in athletics, glee, band, and school clubs. Along with their many social activities they held one of the highest scholastic standings in school. The class, under the advisorship of Mrs. C. Smith and Miss Julia Barnum, had as of their class officers: President, Denny Marvin; vice president, Arthur Cobb; secretary, Gerald Sagert; treasurer, Donna Underwood; class representative, Lynn Hamilton.

The Junior year was destined to be one of the best years enjoyed by the class of '46. With outstanding leaders in the form of president, Dave Powell; vice president, Jean Beach; secretary, Donna Underwood; treasurer, Jess Ingram; class representative, Paul McCracken, and advisors Mrs. Wilshire and Miss Brown, the year was most successful.

The Junior-Senior Prom was the big social event of the year and with a theme of "Gay Paree" being successfully carried out it was one of the best proms in years. The grand march was led by Queen Ruth and her court of six princesses. As in previous years the class was full of outstanding athletes, and representation in all school activities. Dave Powell was picked on the Tri-County League all-star football team and Dave and Lynn Hamilton made the District 7 all-star in basketball.

With mixed emotions, 84 seniors entered the halls of old L. H. S. for their last year on September 17, 1945. With advisors, Mrs. Wilshire and Mr. Brenner, they selected as their leaders: President, Gay Baldwin; vice president, Denny Marvin; secretary, Dorene Liggett; treasurer, Dick Hewett; and class representative, Jess Ingram.

Under the capable leadership of Mr. Holt, the Senior class play, "Going Places," was presented and turned out to be one of the best ever staged here.

Through wonderful representation of seniors in all school activities, the school had an outstanding football team, the best basketball team Lebanon has ever had, and a band and choral group any school would be proud to claim.

May 10, Queen Billie Ann, and her court of six beautiful princesses, Mary Almen, Shirley Crandall, Beverly Lenox, Adalee McKinney, Dorothy Sylvester, and Joan Voegelein reigned over the May Day celebration.

With baccalaureate taking place on June 2 and commencement on June 5, approximately 90 seniors graduated to go out into the world.

It is with happy memories of the past four years to look back upon that the Seniors think of the future and hope for success.

Junior Class

The Junior Class began the year with a class meeting under the supervision of our class advisors, Miss Dougherty, Mrs. Christine Smith, and Mrs. Edith Smith. At the first meeting class officers elected were:

BUD GOULD
President

President	Bud Gould
Vice president	Marlys Sinclair
Treasurer	Paul Alley
Class Representative	Mary Gene Gregory
Sergeant-at-arms	Wilson Vanderburg

This year's Junior Class has participated in all phases of school activities with our boys who displayed their talents in the field of athletics leading the way. They were, in football: Bob Downing, Bud Gould, Dick Hobbs, Paul Alley, Joe Baca, Hugh Logan, Bob Ackeret, and Elmer Fields; in basketball, on the "A" squad, Paul Alley, Elmer Fieds, Bob Ackeret, and Jerry Toole; on the "B" squad, Bob Downing, Dick Hobbs, Hugh Logan, Bud Gould, and Remmal Nivens, with Gene Simi, earning a letter as manager; in baseball Hugh Logan, Gene Simi, Paul Alley, Clair Reeder, Elmer Fields, and Bill Calhoun.

The girls of the Junior Class were also very active with Fay Carroll being cheer leader, and Marion Le Baron, Fayne Blackburn, and Pat Worland on the Rally Squad. Other activities participated in by the girls were, G. A. A. with Marion Le Baron as president; Girls' League with Margaret Howe, vice president; Fayne Blackburn, treasurer; and Mary Gene Gregory as Junior Representative. Mary Gene was also elected as prom chairman.

The Junior Class was represented for the first time in L. H. S. history on the annual staff with Judy Swanson associate business manager and Leon Kambak, associate editor.

Nearing the end of the school year the whole school was shocked by the sudden death of two very popular Junior boys, Bob Ackeret and Hugh Logan, resulting from an automobile accident on a weekend trip. These boys will be sorely missed in the future, not only by the Junior Class but by the whole of the L. H. S. student body. Two other Junior boys were also in this unfortunate accident. They were Darrell Guinn and Gene Simi, both of them still being in a very critical condition from the injuries they suffered.

Although this accident leaves the Junior Class very sad and disheartened they still have the drive and determination to make next year the best in L. H. S. history.

Sophomore Class

The Sophomore Class began the year with an approximate enrollment of one hundred seventy-eight students. The officers as elected at the first of the year were, president, Bob Miles; vice president, Tommie Jusa; secretary, Coleen Rappe; treasurer, Don Ward, who immediately moved to California, and Martel Scroggins was elected in his place; student council representative, Harold Fritz, and a courtesy committee elected near the close of the year. The very able class advisors were Mrs. Stewart, Miss MacLean, and Mr. Bowen.

BOB MILES
 President

Many activities were participated in by members of the class. A number of the students were in band, mixed chorus, and five of the girls in sextette. They were Nancy Mae Trigg, Mary Kathryn Reeves, Anne Swanson, Orvillis Pepperling, and Jean Adell Russell.

In sports, four boys received letters: Dean Johnson, Bud Barr, Bob Henkle, and J. T. Hamilton.

Joanne Warner was elected as one of the yell leaders; also, Earnestine Fields and Sharlee Leach were chosen for the Rally Squad.

Mary Kathryn Reeves was elected as Sophomore Girls' League Representative, and Nancy Trigg was elected as secretary.

Class money was raised by selling hotdogs at the Albany-Lebanon football game, and a dance was sponsored after a basketball game. At the beginning of the year every Sophomore paid in one dollar dues; this also went into the treasury.

The annual class party was celebrated on Valentine's Day with a large percentage of the class attending the skating party at the Albany Rink, February 14.

Patriotism was brought closer to every member of the class when several of the boys enlisted in the service. They were J. D. Hammock, U. S. Army; Wesley Shimanek, Navy; and George Moore, Merchant Marine.

The class activities were very well publicized with Elizabeth Waddell, Norma Wood, and Anne Swanson as members of the Hi-Light staff. In connection with the school paper, Anne Swanson was sent as one of the two representatives to Pacific University at Forest Grove for a journalism contest. Plans are being made to send representatives again next year.

A number of the girls achieved athletic prowess by earning G. A. A. points.

Several of the boys were members of the Hi-Y Club. They were: J. T. Hamilton, Harry Drapela, Lloyd White, and Harold Fritz.

Due to the splendid co-operation of officers, advisors, and members of the class, the year was an exceedingly successful one.

Freshmen Class

The class of 1949 entered Lebanon High School with a membership of 160 students. The class consisted of a few more boys than girls, to the ratio of 84 to 76, likewise the town students were greater in number by twenty.

The class officers elected at the beginning of the year were: Sally Davis, president; Monty Horton, vice-president; Pat Christian, secretary; Pat Cone, treasurer; and Gene Tanner, student council representative. During the year these officers did a creditable piece of work.

An innovation of the year was the collection of dues and the issuance of class activity cards. With these cards a student was allowed entrance to all class activities.

SALLY DAVIS
President

The most popular activity of the year was the noon hour game room, which was open on all bad days to those freshmen who desired to read, play games, or chat. An average of fifty people, daily enjoyed themselves. This activity was particularly enjoyed by the rural students.

The town students were the ardent supporters of the four evening activities. As usual freshmen faced their initiation with fear and trembling; however when the fatal day arrived they showed a superior brand of sportsmanship. In the fall a "Mixer" party started the class off to a very friendly year. The dress-up occasion for the year was the St. Patrick's Day dance. Two skating parties at the Albany rink were enthusiastically supported by over one hundred fans.

"Eager beaver" freshmen thronged to football practice in the fall; but only the husky, stalwart variety endured to the end. One freshman, James Fryrear, accomplished the unusual feat of playing enough football to get the coveted football letter.

A fine brand of basketball was played by the yearlings on the "B" squad. The men who practically guarantee us another brilliant basketball season in two or three years are: Jerry Bartels, Bob Osterman, James Fryrear, Gene Tanner, Robert Patterson, Richard Haughton, Joe Abbott, Donald Hebert, and James Sollenberger.

In the spring the fellows' fancy turned to baseball. Here, however, they did not show the same talent as in basketball.

The Pep Club was largely made up of underclass girls. Their enthusiasm was most admirable. It is to be hoped that it will continue unabated. The two freshmen girls who acted as cheer leaders for the "C" squad games were: Pat Cone and Erma Gray.

This year the band has done exceptionally well. Their high degree of proficiency was attained through the aid of: James Fryrear, Monty Horton, and Gene Tanner, trombone; Sally Davis, Bill McKinney, Bob Osterman, clarinet; John Jacobsen, cornet; Jacqueline Simi, and Robert Patterson, drums.

Junior High---Upper Division

This year the eighth grade had an enrollment of ninety-five students. As most of the students attended Lebanon Junior High last year they were not quite so bewildered when they entered school in September.

The first class meeting was held to elect the following officers: Kay Hoseid, president; Hugh Herron, vice-president; Beverly Davis, secretary; Janice King, treasurer; Ronnie Fink, class representative; Ron Zimmerdahl, sergeant-at-arms. During the year Ronnie Fink and Ron Zimmerdahl moved away and were replaced by Rudy Killison and Richard Copeland.

Under the supervision of the preceding officers and the class advisors, Mrs. Ruth Rasmussen and Mr. Lewis Clark, the eighth graders have had a good school year.

K. HOSEID
 President

There are many eighth grade students that took part in the music department of L. H. S., especially in our band. We are proud of the number of eighth graders in the band this year.

The eighth grade was 100% in buying student body tickets. They added much pep to all the games throughout the year. Besides turning out for the high school games the eighth grade attended the Junior High games. The eighth grade basketball team came out on top in the eighth grade tournament. For this reason the students were very proud of their team.

The Junior High cheer leaders from the eighth grade are Bonita Johnson and Gustie Pesek. They did a fine job leading the cheering section.

The participation of the eighth grade students in the bond drives have been excellent. They purchased the fine total of $13,602.45.

Under the leadership of Mr. Clark and Mrs. Rasmussen, the class had a party in the gym November 30, 1945. This proved to be a success. Our class skating party on May 3 was also a success.

The seventh and eighth grade girls, along with the help of Miss Brown, have organized a Junior Girl's League. Eighth grade girls held the offices of President, treasurer, social chairman, and eighth grade representative in the organization.

The students are looking forward to entering high school as the freshman class next year and this promises to be an outstanding class for Lebanon High.

The students wish to thank Mrs. Rasmussen and Mr. Clark for the help they have given us during the year.

Junior High---Lower Division

SAMMY GILBERT
 President

With less than eighty students, the Seventh Grade entered Lebanon High School. This was a very special occasion, for this group was entering high school for the beginning of six busy eventful years that was to lead to future success. Each student was enthusiastic and interested in the new situation.

The first week was perhaps the most trying. The students hurrying and scurrying through the halls lost their way and arrived late in the wrong class to discover to their embarrassment that their class was just next door. As experience is a good teacher, it was not long until all the class became quite familiar with the routine of the high school and were on their way to do their best that they might be a credit to the high school.

The Seventh Grade class held their first regular meeting the second week of school and elected class officers for the ensuing year. The result of the election was: President, Sammy Gilbert; vice-president, Loris Wells; secretary, Edris Lanning; treasurer, Beverly Canoy; and class representative, Earletta Saxton.

The class is to be complimented on the orderly manner in which they have conducted their meetings.

The Junior Girl's League was organized at the beginning of the second semester. The seventh grade supplied three officers that were elected by vote of the seventh and eighth grade girls. The following officers were elected: vice-president, Ardeth Benz; secretary, Mary Anne Herron; and representative, Earletta Saxton.

The class has been well represented by several students in art, band, and chorus.

As the seventh grade could not participate in athletics, it did not discourage their attendance, for almost all of the boys and girls were out for every game, supporting their team with plenty of pep and enthusiasm. A great number of boys are looking forward to the time when they can play football, basketball, and baseball.

One of the very outstanding events of the school year was the seventh grade party which was held in the gymnasium on April 26. The success of the party was made possible by the efficient committees who planned and took full charge of everything. All the students reported that it was one party to be long remembered, for everyone had a grand time.

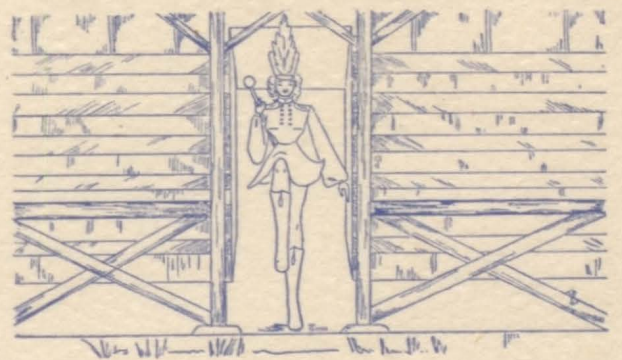

Time is fleeting and summer vacation is drawing near, but everyone will be happy to return next fall to take up where the eighth grade left off.

The Seventh Grade class wishes to thank its advisers, Mrs. Faller and Mrs. Elswick, for their interest and help.

Band

Lebanon High School Band achieved high honors this year and upheld the reputation it has gained throughout the area as a winner of six consecutive state contests.

Miss Julia K. Barnum was the director (3rd year). Officers for the year were: Joan Voegelein, president and student director; Charles Gram, vice president and drum major; Sally Davis, secretary, Eileen Norman, librarian; Gene Tanner, treasurer; and Gib Scott, sergeant-at-arms.

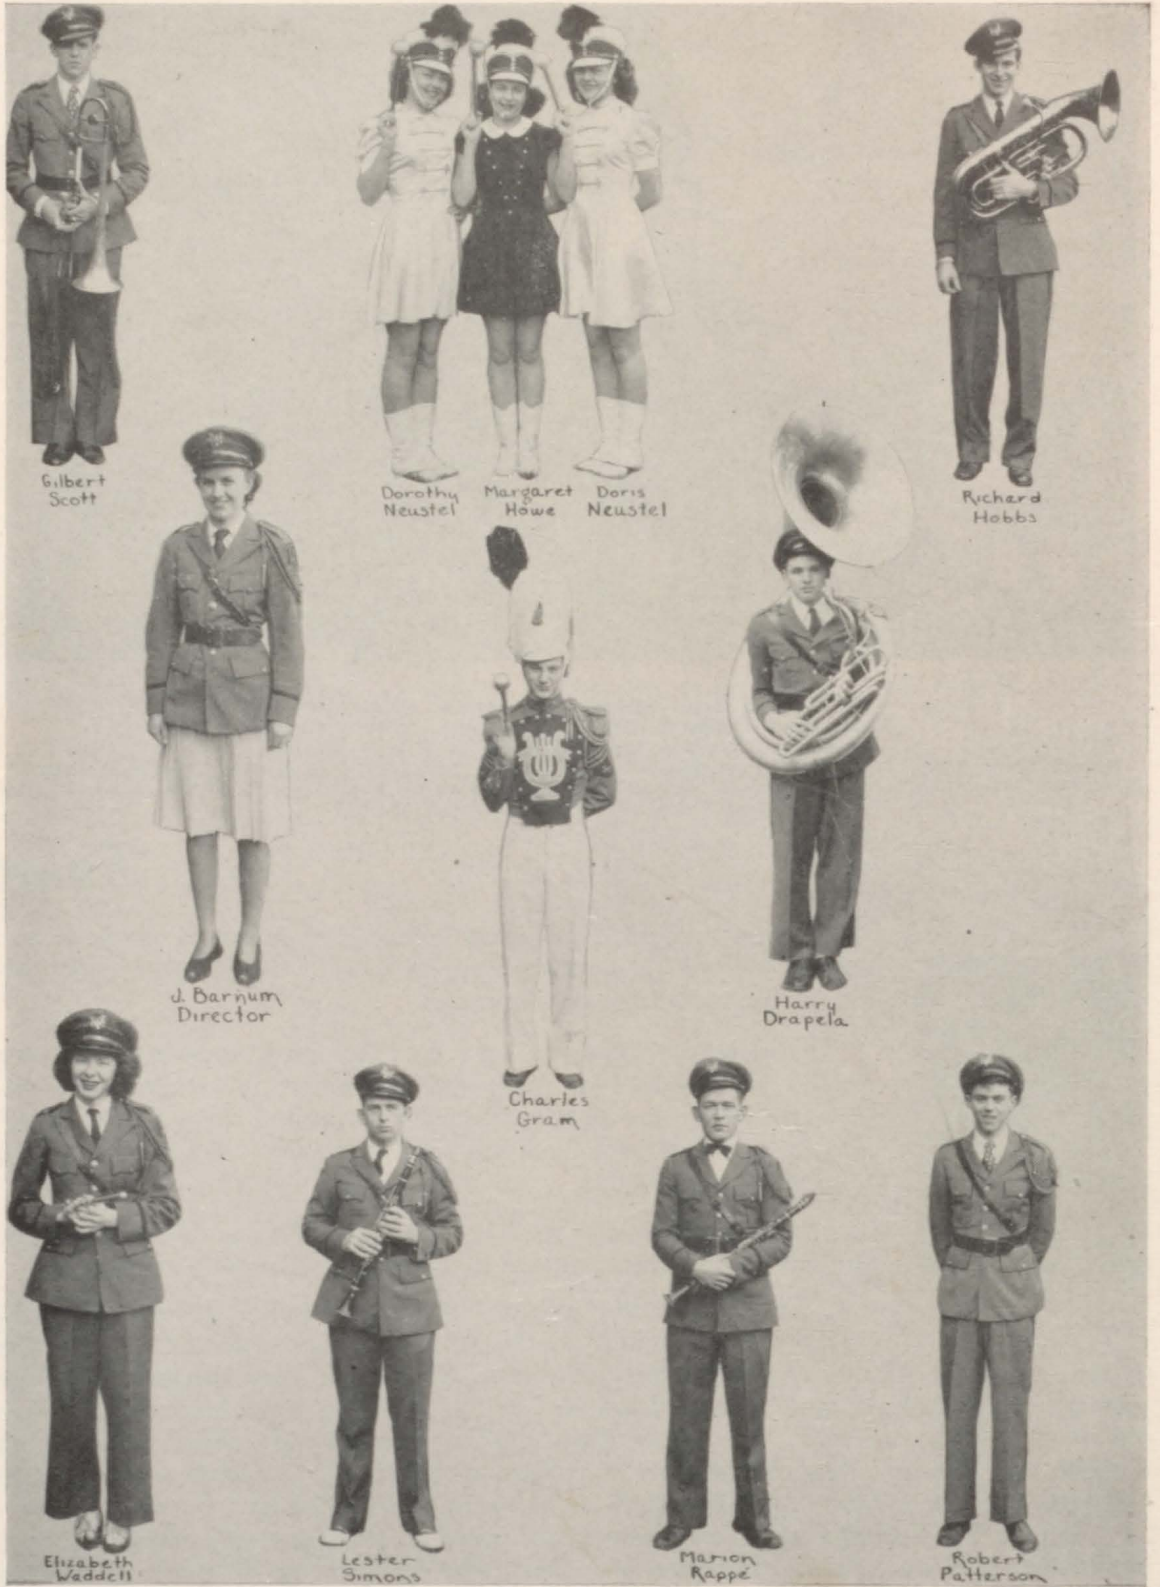

First semester activities included marching at football games, playing at basketball games and giving a Christmas concert.

JOAN VOEGELEIN
 President

Second semester was especially busy since festivals, contests, and Strawberry Fair are resuming their pre-war status. At the music festival at Albany March 19 the band received many commendations and suggestions which helped them win a "Superior" or "I" rating at state contests in Salem the first weekend in April. This made them eligible to enter the national contests at Eugene May 4 where they received an "Excellent" or "II" rating. Contest numbers were "Semper Paratus," "Morning, Noon, and Night," and "Jolly Robbers."

Of the five instrumental soloists who participated in state contests, Marion Rappe, clarinetist, and Dick Hobbs, baritone, won firsts and went on to nationals to receive "II" ratings. Joan Voegelein, oboist; Gilbert Scott, trombonist, and Nancy Gleason, pianist, received "II" ratings at state meet.

Mixed Chorus

The mixed chorus this year was composed of forty-six members, with Nancy Gleason as accompanist. A great deal of credit should go to the small number of boys in the bass and tenor section, as there were approximately twice as many alto and soprano voices. Miss Julia Barnum was the very able director.

Officers were elected at the beginning of the year. They were as follows: President, Bob Brannon; Librarian, Nancy Trigg, and assistant librarian, Shirley Simons.

BOB BRANNON
 President

Many activities were participated in during the year. Appropriate songs were sung in an assembly for Yuletide, and also another assembly was presented just before going to Albany for the Music Festival, March 19. The purpose of this festival was to prepare for the Salem contest, April 5 and 6. Carl Ernst, Portland music superintendent, was the director. He gave many useful pointers which helped at the state contest in Salem. The songs entered at Salem were: "Joshua Fit the Battle of Jericho," "Gay Fiesta," and "God Is A Spirit." The rating earned was a "good" III.

Following the Albany Music Festival a spring concert was presented for the people of Lebanon.

At the close of the year the chorus provided music for May Day, baccalaureate, and commencement.

Girl's Glee Club

Forty Freshmen girls completed their first year of glee club under the direction of Miss Barnum.

The year's training included instruction in music fundamentals, ear training, sight singing, vocal techniques, and learning pieces for programs and contests.

The first appearance of the Freshman Glee Club was at the Christmas assembly program when they sang "The White Snows of Sweden" with the mixed chorus and "Yuletide Overture," a medley of Christmas favorites, with chorus and band. In an all school assembly they sang "Forest Hymn" by Klemm and "Lift Thine Eyes" by Mendelssohn in preparation for performing at the Linn-Benton County Music Festival in Albany, March 19. At the festival Mr. Carl Ernst, Portland music supervisor, gave them helpful criticisms and encouraged the group to compete in contests. Later at Salem they received an excellent rating, II, from the state contest judges.

The Glee Club combined with the chorus to sing "Joshua Fit de Battle of Jericho," and "My Own America" for the spring concert April 3, and sang again with the chorus for May Day and commencement exercises.

Officers for the year were Lorene Rowton, president, and Shirley Keen, secretary-librarian. Joan Voegelein contributed much to the success of the group with the excellent job she did accompanying.

Freshmen Sextets

So many of the Freshman Glee Club girls tried out for sextet that it was decided to give two groups of six a chance to get some experience in small ensemble work.

The first group met on Tuesdays after school and included Elaine Knapp and Raye Bevan, sopranos; Faye Bevan and Barbara Pearce, second sopranos; Lorene Rowton and Norma Strange, altos.

The second sextet met Friday afternoons and consisted of Barbara Olson and Ramona Powell, sopranos; Claire Caldwell and Jean Carlson, second sopranos; and Joan Carlson and Elizabeth Blazer, altos.

At Christmas-time both sextets were kept busy with performances at church and school programs and the combined group sang several Slovak carols for the American Legion banquet.

Nine of the girls made up a triple trio to sing for the Easter sunrise service, April 21. They sang "Panis Angelicus,, by Cesar Franck.

Most of these Freshmen girls have had beginning voice training in Junior High chorus. Lorene sang with the mixed chorus last year. With another year or so of training they hope to sing well enough to participate in advanced groups and contests.

All of the members of the sextet appreciated the help received from Miss Barnum, vocal instructor, and Joan Voegelein, accompanist.

Reeves, J. Swanson, Russell, Trigg, Pepperling, A. Swanson

Girl's Sextet

MISS BARNUM
Director

The sextet this year was made up of Judy Swanson, Junior; Mary Kathryn Reeves, Anne Swanson, Jean Adell Russell, Orvilliss Pepperling, Sophomores; and Nancy Gleason, accompanist.

The sextet has made various appearances during the year. A trio made up of Nancy May Trigg, Anne Swanson, and Judy Swanson, sang at the P. T. A., due to the illness of the other three members. A similar occurrence was repeated when Nancy Trigg, Jean Adell Russell and Mary Kathryn Reeves sang for the Lions Club. The full sextet sang at a few assemblies, the spring concert, the fashion show, and a music week tea.

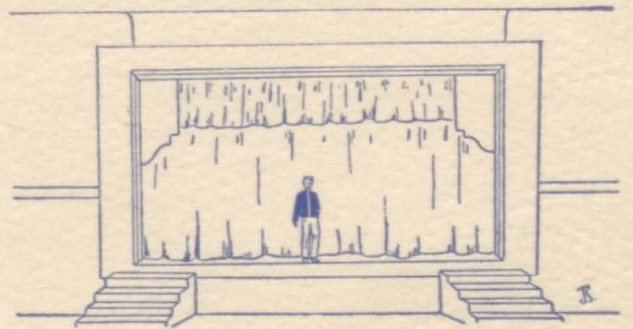

Some of the songs sung were "Awake, 'Tis Spring," "Clouds," and "Tropical Gardens."

Joan Voegelein, Nancy Gleason, and Ernestine Fields served as substitutes several times when the regular girls were absent.

Three of the group, Nancy Mae, Mary Kathryn, and Jean Adell, entered the state contest at Salem, April 5 and received an excellent (II) rating for their trio numbers, "All in the April Evening," and "The Old Woman and the Peddler."

Four of the girls served as sextet members last year, and some funds were carried over which cared for the year's expenses.

Civil Air Patrol

DICK HEWETT
 Executive Officer

The Civil Air Patrol, an auxiliary of the United States Army Air Forces consisting mainly of volunteer civilians, is active in Lebanon High School primarily for the purpose of training air cadets. The Civil Air Patrol has operated in close collaboration with the A.A.F. in various types of projects since the war began, and it was made an A.A.F. auxiliary by executive order on April 29, 1943. During the bitterest part of the anti-submarine campaign from March, 1942 to August, 1943, it provided an antisubmarine air patrol which totaled more than 24 million miles of over-water flying, and spotted 173 submarines. The Civil Air Patrol provides an extensive air carrier service for the transport of critical supplies, parts, and mail between A. A. F. bases as well as for other agencies.

Other important Civil Air Patrol contributions include training of pre-induction personnel, search missions for lost aircraft, and a southern air patrol over the Mexican border.

The local squadron has been active in promoting the local flying field, recruiting trained personnel, flood observation, placement service, crash crew, search and rescue parties and ski patrol.

Many social events were enjoyed during the season by the cadets. The local squadron was organized in March, 1943 and Ed Brenner has been the commanding officer since its inception.

Fire Squad

LYNN HAMILTON
 Fire Chief

The fire squad under the supervision of Mr. Brenner and Fire Chief Lynn Hamilton turned in a very splendid performance in the past year. Starting out with practically all new members this year due to the loss by graduation of nearly all of the old members, the squad has had a very successful year. The squad has a squad member placed at each main door, one at each fire extinguisher, and the remaining members given the duties of seeing that all doors and windows were closed and all lights out.

The object of the club is to have a group of boys who through knowledge of the building and how to use hoses and fire extinguishers, could direct the rest of the students out of the building in case of fire and also could help fight the fire if the need arose.

At the first of the year, the equipment was given a thorough check to see that it was all in working order and the squad was given instruction on the use of hoses and fire extinguishers so that they could use these if they had to.

Each fire drill was timed to see how fast the students cleared the building. All of the drills turned out very fast but the fastest one was in the record-breaking time of fifty-five seconds.

The club has a membership of nineteen boys and they are as follows: Assistant Fire Chief Joe Elkins, Ron Cox, Bill Ball, James Roner, Ray LaFond, Johnnie Bohlken, Ken Haughton, Dick Hewett, Gay Baldwin, Will Moody, Ron Board, Roland Board, Leon Kambak, Bill Calhoun, Joe Baca, Layton Arnold, Paul Alley, and Mole Abbott.

G. A. A.

This year G. A. A. started out with a bang and enjoyed one of its most successful years.

One of the most outstanding functions was a Playday sponsored by Albany's G. A. A., ten girls attending from Lebanon and surrounding districts. A very interesting day consisted of volleyball tournaments, programs presented by each attending school, and a most amusing game called, "Murder He Says." A cafeteria luncheon topped off the afternoon.

A dance was the gallant affair sponsored by G. A. A. after the Corvallis game. Ice cream slices were sold during the Redmond game, and the money received will be used for the purchase of the letters earned by the girls who have obtained 100 points or more.

MARION LE BARON
 President

Noon tournaments consisting of volley ball, soccer, basketball, and ping pong were held to help girls secure points, while others enjoyed the outside life in hiking, skiing, bicycling, and tennis.

Clarnell Bryant resigned as president during the first of the year, thus leaving the staff of officers as follows: President, Marion LeBaron; secretary, Margaret Howe; treasurer, Elmerjane Carlson. The girls holding offices in the sports department are: sport head, Norma Berry; soccer, Mary Almen; ping pong, Leona Duncan; volleyball, Neva Glaser; tumbling, Pat Pierce; softball, Nancy Trigg; Tennis, Mary K. Reeves; hike, Erma Crockett; bicycling, Nova J. Keith; rhythms, Ernestine Fields; badminton, Wanita Fleming.

Lebanon Hi-Light

This year the Hi-Light was published both semesters of the school year of 1945-46 under the supervision of Mr. H. E. Hickcox.

GAY BALDWIN
 Editor

The Hi-Light staff the first semester consisted of:

Editor-in-Chief	George Fowler
Associate Editor	Alice Hansell
Business Manager	Judy Swanson
Associate Business Mgr.	Dorothy Cummings

The second semester officers were:

Editor-in-Chief	Gay Baldwin
Associate Editor	Alice Hansell
Business Manager	Dorothy Cummings
Associate Business Mgr.	Elizabeth Waddell

The paper was published in seventeen issues, nine the first semester and eight the second semester. The circulation was about 1,500 copies. The paper, under the present head of the Hi-Light, is nine years old, although there has been a school paper during the entire history of the school.

Many articles of news and human interest were covered by the alert staff. The Hi-Light prided itself in the fact that some news stories were printed as "scoops." These "scoops" proved the efficiency of the staff reporters.

The business men are to be thanked for their splendid cooperation and whole-hearted support.

Hi-Y Club

The Lebanon Hi-Y, long one of the top ranking organizations in the school, has completed another successful year. Starting the year with a large group of neophytes the club was expected to do great things. And it lived up to all expectations. Very successful meetings were enjoyed by all of the active members.

A short time after school was started several "truth sessions" were held, in which the boys hurled slams and compliments at the girls, and the girls criticized and threw compliments also. The girls, a picked group from Girl's League council, seemed to benefit as much from these meetings as the boys.

DENNY MARVIN
 President

The Hi-Y has also been very active in other ways, such as sponsoring dances after games. And as the whole student body remembers, the Hi-Y big spring formal was a great success.

A very capable group of officers led the club throughout the year, they were, Lawrence Page, advisor; Denny Marvin, president; Kenny Haughton, secretary; and Dick Hobbs, treasurer. Near the end of the year, April 28, the Hi-Y went as a body to church, taking either dates or their mothers. This was very successful and should prove popular in the years to come.

Towards the end of the year the club was shocked and hurt at the loss of one of their most active members in a tragic weekend accident, and also the loss of another close friend.

Home Ec. Club

The Home Ec Club enjoyed a very successful year under the able advisorship of our instructor, Mrs. Parham.

BETH DECKER
 President

The meetings were held during the noon hour every two weeks. At the first meeting of the year the following officers were elected: Beth Decker, president; Jacqueline Simi, vice president; Ethel Nofziger, secretary-treasurer; Patricia Christian, historian; and Mary Williams, social advisor.

At the second meeting chili and salad were served. The center pieces for the tables were pine boughs and Christmas angels. At the close of the meeting Christmas carols were sung and a reading was given by Barbara Smith. A good time was had by all.

At the business meeting the fashion review was planned, and it was decided to contribute the money made previously.

The theme of the fashion review this year was "The Old Woman in the Shoe." The old woman was played by Delores Cox. The reader was Louise Alkio; Arden Keebler gave the comments, and the welcome speech was given by Beth Decker. Two spring numbers were sung by the sextette. One hundred and sixteen girls made and modeled their gay spring frocks, formals, skirts and blouses, and colorful two piece suits.

Library Club

This club is composed of library assistants. The officers for the year are: Dorothy Miller, president; Mary Williams, vice president; Melba Cox, secretary-treasurer; Nancy Costello, reporter. The purpose of the club is to learn the fundamentals of librarianship; the meetings are held monthly.

DOROTHY MILLER
 President

Library assistants must have certain character qualifications such as intelligence, efficiency, and a pleasing personality. The routines of the library are assigned to certain assistants. Dorothy Miller, Melba Cox, and Patty Caughren take care of the overdue books and fines; Marjorie Kimble has charge of the magazine room; Mary Williams keeps our circulation data; Mary Almen, Nancy Costello, Arlene Glass, and Eloise Groves carry on library housekeeping, book preparation, typing catalog cards and letters, and work at the circulation desk. Dorothy Miller has had three years experience; Nancy Costello and Mary Almen, two years; the remainder of the group are beginners. They will be the nucleus of a good club for next year.

The Library Club not only serves the High School library, but those of the grade schools as well. All the classifying, cataloging, and preparation of books for the three libraries is carried on by the library assistants.

The Lebanon High School library has about 1500 volumes, including three sets of up-to-date encyclopedias: "The Americana," "Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia, and the "World Book." Our circulation date for this year is, January 754, February 796, March 288, and April 725. This is an average circulation of 641 books per month.

Lettermen's Club

JESS INGRAM
 President

Although not too active so far as parties, dances, plays and other social activities are concerned the Lettermen's club was still one of the most respected and looked-up-to organizations in the high school. For as long as there are sports, athletes will be admired. There is only one qualification for entering this club and that is that the person must be a winner of the coveted "L" of Lebanon High. This year being a big year for Lebanon in the field of sports, many new members were taken in, all of them athletes, whether football, basketball, or baseball lettermen. Whether active or not though, it means a great deal to a boy to be able to say that he is a member of the Lettermen's club, and it means a great deal to parents and others concerned. For not only does it signify that the boy was a letterman, but also the fact that the boy has played on a team, and whether a winning team or a losing one he has learned the meaning of teamwork. He has learned that it takes 11 men to play football, and five men to play basketball, and that only through cooperation and working together are winning teams made. And when he has learned this, he has achieved a great milestone in his career. That is why as long as there is a Lettermen's club it will always be looked up to, and hold its own in the top ranks of active organizations.

Pep Club

Lebanon High's pep club, an all girl organization, was the center of enthusiasm for all games this year.

The membership of the club this year was 150, consisting of Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors.

The pep club has helped sponsor pep assemblies and two big rallies downtown. The first rally during football season was for the Redmond game, and the second during basketball season, for the traditional Albany game.

The pep club this year was followed on the same basis as in past years, but look forward in the future to a newly organized, selected group of girls.

SHIRLEY CONE
 President

The advisor for this year was Miss Dougherty. Officers of the club were: President, Shirley Cone; vice-president and secretary-treasurer, Adalee McKinney.

For the first time in a number of years the student body elected three cheer leaders from a group of "try-outs."

Those elected were: Wayne Samuel, Faye Carroll, Joanne Warner.

Girl's League

The Girl's League has had years of successful existence upholding the traditions of the school in giving the girls an equal opportunity to be successful in school activities, and life. This year's organization of outstanding girls hand one of the most successful years of any club in school. It ranked high in activities with the annual event being election and installation of new officers.

Officers this year were: president, Joan Voegelein; vice president, Margaret Howe; secretary, Nancy Trigg; treasurer, Fayne Blackburn; big sister chairman, Zata Sinclair; social chairman, Mary Williams. Representatives of classes were as follows: Senior class, Elmerjane Carlson; Junior, Margaret Howe; Sophomore, Jackie Simi. The group was advised by Miss Brown, dean of women.

The Girl's League had parties, dances, and Mother-Daughter teas. On May 21st was held the installation of next year's new officers. May they have as enjoyable a year as the '46 Council.

Junior High Girl's League

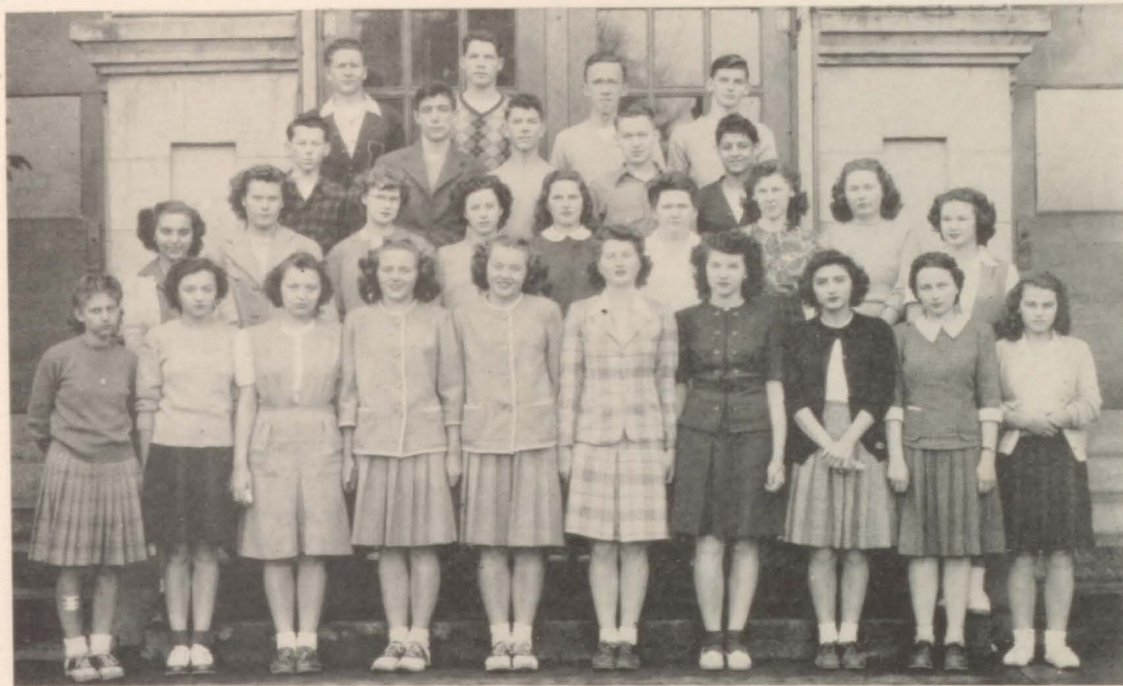

GLORIA LOGAN
 President

A Girl's League for the Junior High girls is finally organized. Through careful consideration, and using the Senior High Girl's League constitution as a guide, the girls' advisor, senior council and 7th and 8th grade teachers, drew up a ballot, nominating outstanding girls for the offices needed. All of the Junior High girls were invited to eat lunch with the Senior High council who explained what Girl's League means, and then the election was held. The officers were installed by the S. H. Girl's League officers with the regular installation ceremony. They are as follows: President, Gloria Logan; vice president, Ardith Benz; secretary, Mary Ann Herron; treasurer, Mary Waddell; 8th grade representative, Janice King; 7th grade representative, Earletta Saxton; social chairman, Dewanda Hamilton. Immediately after the ceremony their mothers were invited to stay for tea.

The Junior High Girl's League is already an active organization. They sold hot dogs and ice cream bars at games and even sponsored one of the after-game dances. They also sold strawberries advertising the Strawberry Festival as a money-making project.

They had a big roller skating party and after having a wiener roast, which proved to be successful, they held another picnic.

In the future this organization will be one of the most active in Lebanon High school. They surely have gotten off to a good start.

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club, sponsored by Mrs. Ruth Purcell, organized in September, 1945. Officers are as follows: President, Paul Alley; vice president, Rita Brown; secretary, Doris Neustal; treasurer, Betty Walker; reporter, Beverly Lenox.

The name selected by the 30 members of the club is "Los Bibliofilos" (the book-worms); colors, "Naranja y Azeul" (orange and blue); motto, "Pocoa poco se va lejos" (make haste slowly); and song, "Alla en el Rancho Grande."

Activities have included a skating party and discussions concerning the customs, dress, language, and festivals of the Spanish people.

Lebonski Club

JOE ELKINS
 President

The Lebonski Club has had one of the most frolicking, successful years enjoyed by any club in L. H. S. Going on two years of existence, the club is under the capable leadership of Mr. Brenner and Mr. Clark.

The members went to at least five trips to Hoodoo on three overnight excursions and two single day jaunts, plus two skating parties and a picnic at Silver Creek falls. The transportation was furnished by the school bus or individual cars.

President is Joe Elkins; vice president, Fayne Blackburn; secretary, Pat Worland, and treasurer, Shirley Cone. These were selected at the first of the year.

To be a member you were required to pay one dollar admission fee, and the membership now averages sixty-six.

Where money was concerned the Ski club usually had an ample amount, totaling to date $55.05. This was brought about by fees and a dance sponsored after the Albany basketball game.

It seems the Ski club originated way back in forty-three when ski enthusiasts got together and suggested such an organization. Finally it got started and membership started mounting. It seemed that everyone enjoyed skiing, that is, enjoyed trying.

Paletteer's Club

The newly formed Paletteer's Club of Lebanon was inspired by a club of the same name from Eugene High school, Eugene, Oregon. It is the plan of Eugene's Paletteer's Club to help organize these art clubs throughout the high schools of the state of Oregon.

The purpose of the club is to provide the school organizations with facilities, advice and help for advertising and decorating for dances, parties and banquets, which will be handled by people capable of the work.

JULIE CLARK
 President

A uniform list of rates to be charged for such projects is being prepared and will be put into effect next year. The money earned in this manner will cover materials and time, also it will provide club members with a fund which will be devoted to help pay expenses for tours which are planned to art museums and exhibits in Portland and Eugene.

The individual members will profit from the many types of arts and crafts which each may choose and follow. Such new projects as sketching tours, instructions in oil and watercolor painting, and sketching from models will be taught by the advisor, Miss Lovedy Burkholder.

Pins will be awarded to those members earning fifty hours or more. Hours may be earned by making signs or posters, decorating for dances and other types of art work made for school or outside organizations. The pins will be tiny gold palettes with three imprinted brushes and a guard consisting of the letter "L" for Lebanon.

Trade and Industry

DOROTHY SYLVESTER
 President

The Trade and Industry class, although comparatively new in Lebanon High School has enjoyed one of the most successful years of any club. This club, commonly called the T. & I. club, is one of the most active clubs in school. It was started two years ago, when businesses and industries in the area became aware of a terrific manpower shortage, and the only answer seemed to lie in the part time hiring of high school students. In order to become a member of this organization one must work at least 15 hours on a job. Among the advantages of this system is the fact that on most jobs it enables you to hire out as an apprentice, and after working a certain length of time you become a skilled tradesman. The program is open to girls as well as boys so that everyone in high school employed in a full time or a part time job derives benefits from the program. The program is under the capable direction of Mr. Dodds who works as coordinator in this area. Not only are you placed on the job of your choosing when you enter the program you also spend one hour a day in class, studying your particular vocation, getting a theoretical as well as a practical view, and learning various other necessities that will be more apt to make you a success in the industrial and business world.

Veteran's Training Program

There are countless opportunities for employing veterans in Oregon businesses and industries, through the splendid program of on-the-job training provided by the federal government and functioning in Oregon through the department of vocational education and the state apprenticeship council. In this program, veterans' starting wages are augmented by subsistence allowances from the government under the GI bill of rights in order to insure a fair standard of living during the learning period.

Selective service and employment service figures indicate that from 50 to 80 percent of Oregon's veterans went into the armed forces without having held pre-war jobs requiring skills. It is these men who need training in occupations, and it is believed that the best way to get these men into employment is through on-the-job training. Either of two avenues is open: (1) in apprenticable trades or (2) in occupations where skills can be taught under the "Vocational Training Memorandum." In Oregon these two programs are virtually the same, and are supervised through the local apprentice council.

It must be understood, of course, that government funds provided under this program are not intended as a dole for the veteran nor as a means whereby the employer gets cheap labor at government expense. These funds are intended to train the veteran for his own future security as well as to provide industry with skilled men. Any veteran-employer contract signed for on-the-job training entails responsibilities for both. The chief requirements for the employer, is that he agree to train the man during his working hours. For the veteran, he must agree to accept this training and in addition, to improve himself through study of subjects relative to his job.

The Veterans Administration provides funds under the amended GI bill of rights (Public Law 346) for the payment of $65 a month maximum for single men and $90 a month for veterans with dependents. These allotments are made to enable the veteran accept employment which will lead to full qualifications as a skilled worker. In no case will he be allowed to receive the prevailing scale for journeymen in his occupation.

For disabled veterans, a vocational rehabilitation program (Public Law 16) is set up to provide job trainees with a starting minimum subsistence allowance of $65 a month for single veterans and $90 a month for veterans with dependents, in addition to the basic pension or retirement pay as a result of disability. The pension has nothing to do with the subsistence allowance, and will remain constant, so long as the veteran's condition of disability does not change.

The length of time the veteran receives the federal allotment under the GI bill is determined by his length of actual service. If he served 90 days or more in the armed forces since Sept. 16, 1940 (or discharged for physical disability if less than 90 days), and was discharged under conditions other than dishonorable, he is automatically entitled to one year of training allotments. Then, for every month spent in service he is entitled to one month of training. The maximum is four years.

Football

The 1945 Lebanon High School football team again proved to be one of the best in the Willamette Valley and gained state-wide recognition for its prowess. The Warriors placed second in Tri-County League competition and completed the season with 6 wins, and 2 losses. This year's team played before the largest crowds ever gathered on Newport Field and the wide open style of play displayed by the crimson and blue was definitely a crowd pleaser.

JESS INGRAM
 Captain

Starting out with only 9 lettermen, Coach Bud Page molded together a team that could be a credit to any school. Led by versatile Jess Ingram, captain and left halfback, and aided by the capable blocking and passing of Ron Cox, left-handed passer de luxe, and powered by a strong line, the Warriors gave a display of football that left many opponents on the short end of the score after 48 minutes of play. The line was anchored by big George Fowler, 235-pound center, and he was aided on each side by Bud Goold, watch-charm guard, and Denny Marvin, the hard-hitting line backer who gave so many opposing ball carriers a rough time with his vicious tackling. Lonnie Davis at one tackle, gave a good account of himself for his first year of football, and his teammate, Gay Baldwin, at the other tackle position, proved to be one of the most aggressive tackles in the Tri-County League. Lebanon had two ends who were without a peer in the Tri-County League. Kenny Haughton opened the way for many a touchdown gallop with his blocking ability, and at the other end Lynn Hamilton gained outstanding recognition for his consistent defensive work as well as handling all the punting for the team. Dick Hobbs gave a good account of himself at the quarterback position in his first year at that spot and Bob Downing, a newcomer at the fullback job, showed that he could handle the position very capably.

Reserve backfield men who gained outstanding recognition included, Paul Alley, swivel-hipped halfback who saw almost as much action as the regulars and was a constant threat when in the line-up. Willis Moody, the speedboy on the squad, played either halfback or fullback and was a valuable man on the team. In the line, guards Hugh Logan and Bob Henkle, both newcomers in football, played in practically every game and as replacement for the regulars they proved they knew what they were doing on the gridiron. Two capable tackle reserves were Bob Ackeret and Bud Barr. Orbra Abbott, transfer letterman from Sweet Home, came in for considerable action at either end position.

Highlights of the season included the season's opening victory over the highly favored Salem Vikings by a score of 6 to 0 . . . successive wins over Redmond, Sweet Home, Toledo, and Junction City . . . the fog blanket that rolled in during the Toledo game making the play almost invisible . . . Captain Ingram's long 91-yard run for the first touchdown against Junction City . . . the crowd of 2000 people for the Albany game . . . the University High game played in a sea of mud and the happy Seniors winding up their high school football career with a 14 to 0 win over the campus team . . . Jess Ingram and Lynn Hamilton being picked on the Tri-County League all-star team . . . Gay Baldwin and George Fowler on the second team.

Lettermen for the 1945 season were: Jess Ingram, Lynn Hamilton, Ron Cox, Kenny Haughton, Gay Baldwin, Lonnie Davis, Denny Marvin, George Fowler, Orbra Abbott, Willis Moody, and Bill Conner, Seniors. Bud Goold, Dick Hobbs, Paul Alley, Bob Downing, Hug Logan, Bob Ackeret, Elmer Fields, Joe Baca, Juniors. Bob Henkle, Bud Barr, J. T. Hamilton, Sophomores. Jim Fryrear, Freshman. Bill Salvage, Dean Johnson, and Remmal Nivens, managers.

Scores of games were as follows:

Lebanon 6 — Salem 0	Lebanon 53 — Toledo 13
Lebanon 0 — Roseburg 12	Lebanon 33 — Junction City 0
Lebanon 20 — Redmond 0	Lebanon 7 — Albany 19
Lebanon 26 — Sweet Home 0	Lebanon 14 — University 0

Basketball

Lebanon High School turned out one of the best basketball teams during the 1945-'46 season that the school has ever seen. For the second consecutive year the crimson and blue won the District 7 championship and then went on to place 4th in the state tournament held in Salem. For this achievement, the high school has another trophy to add to the trophy case and it is one the school is justly proud to claim. Many coaches and critics claimed the Warriors to be the best basketball team in the state playoffs, and a few breaks the right way would undoubtedly have seen Lebanon in the championship playoff.

To start the season Coach Bud Page had five lettermen on hand including Lynn Hamilton, Ron Cox, Gay Baldwin, Kenny Haughton and Dick Hewett, plus letterman transfer Orbra Abbott from Sweet Home. Brought up from last year's "B" squad were Paul Alley, Elmer Fields and Bob Ackeret, all promising hoopsters. Jerry Toole, a transfer from Eugene, joined the squad at mid-season and completed the championship 10-man squad.

In pre-season play the Warriors seemed off stride and won only three out of eight games played. However, as soon as league play started after the first of the year, the boys began their winning ways and proved beyond a doubt that they were going to be heard from before the season ended. On the night of March 1 the Warriors downed the Sweet Home Huskies 37 to 25 and won the right to represent District 7 in the state tournament. It was a goal the hard working squad had set their eyes on early in the year, and when the honor was achieved there were many happy and joyful students in good old L. H. S. The many town fans who had so devotedly followed the squad all season and who had helped to fill the Lebanon gym to overflowing at each home game were both pleased and proud to follow the Warriors to the Salem playoffs.

The Warriors were led this year by big, good natured Lynn Hamilton, captain and high scorer on the team. Lynn scored the staggering total of 460 points in 30 games for better than a 15 point per game average, and brought further honor to Lebanon by being selected unanimously on the all-state team at Salem besides scoring 64 points in the tourney to lead the field in this department. Lynn is one of the best hoop artists ever to graduate from Lebanon High and this 4-year letterman will be sorely missed next year but we are all hoping to hear more from him in college basketball circles.

Another boy who turned in a remarkable bit of basketball this year was Ron Cox, center and second high scorer on the team with 338 points. This southpaw artist was unanimously selected on the District 7 all-star team as was Hamilton, and Ron just missed placing on the all-state squad by a few votes. Besides being a high point getter, Ron was one of the best backboard men on the squad and his defensive play was always tops. Standing only 5' 11", Ron often had to play against opponents towering inches above him, but he very capably showed them that he could handle even the tallest of them.

Orbra Abbott, letterman transfer from Sweet Home, turned out to be one of the smoothest ball handlers and passers seen on this floor in a long time. "Mole" always came through with his share of points but his deceptive passing and setting up of baskets for others led the way to many Warrior victories. He fitted into the Lebanon team like he had been playing here for years and this likable athlete certainly proved a gain to Lebanon and a loss to the Huskies when he showed up in the halls of Lebanon High.

Gay Baldwin started out slowly at the beginning of the season, but at mid-season he broke into the starting lineup and this hard driving backboard man proved beyond a doubt that he was of first string caliber. When it came to taking rebounds off the backboard he was without an equal and on defense he covered his man like a blanket. "Baldy" really came through with the goods this year and too much credit cannot be given this husky Warrior guard. Paul Alley, the fifth member of the starting lineup, was the only junior in this group but after a few early season games, he began playing like a veteran and proved to be a valuable asset to the team. Not a high scorer, Paul set up plays for the other boys as well as keeping opponents from scoring on fast breaks. This dependable forward could always be counted on to play his heart out in every game, and as captain-elect for next year we are expecting great things from him.

The reserves, who deserve just as much credit as the regulars, came in for their their share of action and their ability to come through when needed, gave Lebanon that extra strength so needed to win some close games. Kenny Haughton and Dick Hewett, reserve forwards, performed in great style. Haughton alternated at forward for Alley and during the early part of the season he played regular when Alley was on the sick list. At center, Bob Ackeret was a very capable reserve because of his height and aggressive backboard work. Bob could really make the baskets when having a hot night and his presence in the lineup did not weaken the team strength at all. Elmer Fields played as much as any reserve, and this small, but rubber-legged guard was invaluable to the team. He played regular as much as Baldwin and proved to be a clutch player of some outstanding ability. Jerry Toole, who joined the squad late in the season gave the group some much needed reserve strength and the small but ver-satire guard really proved his worth in the state tournament when he replaced the tired Abbott in the last game and came through with five needed points.

Some of the highlights of the best basketball season Lebanon has ever enjoyed were: Lebanon's first home win of the season 34 to 22 over the touring Ashland Grizzlies—the 41 to 36 Warrior victory over the state champion Eugene Axemen in which Cox went score crazy to make 24 points—the winning of the first league game against Sweet Home 43 to 38—the thrilling overtime victory over Corvallis 53 to 49 and Alley making the free throw that sent the game into the overtime—a 46 to 31 win over Albany when Hamilton and Cox scored 22 and 15 points respectively to run wild over the Bulldogs—the O. S. C. Rooks going down to defeat 44 to 35 before the Warriors—the 39 to 30 win over the Albany Bulldogs before the largest crowd ever assembled in the Lebanon gym—Lebanon handing the U. of O. Frosh their first defeat by a high school team 43 to 39—the 37 to 25 win over Sweet Home that put Lebanon in the state tournament—Lebanon downing the Astoria Fishermen 33 to 29 in the first game of the state tournament with Cox scoring 16 points—the close 36 to 34 loss to Washington in the second game of the tourney, but Hamilton starred with 19 points—Lebanon out-galloping the supposedly race horse Baker Bulldogs 52 to 42—the 35 to 31 victory over Rainier which gave Lebanon 4th place in the state casaba classic.

JOE ELKINS
 Captain

Although the 1946 baseball team does not have the outstanding record of the district champions of last year, this year's team has made a creditable showing in games played so far this season and at the time of this writing have broken even in games won and lost, having won 4 and lost 4. The squad was hard hit by graduation last year and a number of new and inexperienced faces appear in the lineup this spring. In spite of this inexperience, the squad is improving in every game and from here on out they should add to the winning side of the ledger.

A thumbnail sketch of the squad shows Joe Elkins, captain and 2-year letterman, as the only experienced pitcher on the roster. Joe is heralded by many as one of the best twirlers in the Willamette Valley and his heavy hitting labels him as an invaluable ball player. Lynn Hamilton, letterman first baseman, has been playing good ball all season and his good work with the bat has been especially noticeable.

Dick Hewett, a reserve letterman infielder from last year, has been holding down second base this year and doing a good job. Although he is small in stature, he wields a strong bat and often hits for extra bases. Willis Moody, letterman third baseman, has been playing a bang-up game at the hot corner and his strong throwing arm has robbed many an opponent of a base hit. "Mole" Abbott, letterman transfer from Sweet Home, has been playing shortstop and this tall, angular lad can cover a lot of ground in that position. He also swings a strong bat and has knocked out his share of base hits. Paul Alley completes the list of lettermen and this versatile Junior has been doing a lot of pitching as well as playing center field when not on the mound. He has turned in some expertly pitched games for his first year as a chucker and his timely hitting makes him a valuable man in the lineup.

Bob Downing, a newcomer to baseball, has been handling the catching duties and is coming along in great style. This hard working Junior has a tough position to fill, but he is learning fast and next year should find him an excellent receiver. In the outfield, Elmer Fields has been playing a lot of ball in right field and he has also been hitting the ball very well. A little more experience will find him a much improved player and a great help to the team. Claire Reeder has been patrolling the left field pasture spot and is showing more promise in every game. His hitting has been improving steadily and next year should be a banner year for this promising Junior. Ron Cox, reserve outfielder, has come in for his share of action and, although inexperienced, he has been a help to the team. Bob Ackeret and Hugh Logan, both reserve outfielders, showed up well during the brief time they were permitted to play with the team. A couple of other boys who have been showing promise and who should be a welcome addition to the squad next year are J. T. Hamilton and Bill Calhoun. Dick Gallagher has been doing an excellent job as manager, a position of unheralded glory on a baseball team.
